EIGHT WERE KILLED.

Victims of the Mine Explosion Near Brownsville, Pa.

THREE WERE REPORTED INJURED.

Heroic Preacher Led a Number of Rescuers—Some of Men Escaped Through an Abandoned Entry—Mine Officials Mum as to Cause.

BROWNSTOWN, Pa., Sept. 24.—The last of the explorers in the Empire mine, about one mile from here, where the fatal explosion occurred yesterday morning, came out last night and announced the dead and living, so far as they knew, were all out. The dead are: John Halston, miner, aged 35 years, negro; leaves a wife and two children. Salem Halston, miner, aged 25 years; single.

Robert Davidson, miner, aged 45 years; white; has no family. John Bennett, driver, aged 22 years; single.

William Pritchard, miner, aged 50 years; has wife and seven children. Henry Hagar, driver, aged 17 years.

John Cartwright, miner, aged 50 years; is married, but has no children. James Hall, miner, aged 27 years; unmarried.

The following were injured: George Baker, miner, burned about the face and breast; John Baker, slightly burned; Samuel McIntyre, cut on the head by a fall of slate.

As near as can be learned there were about 70 men in the mine, about 20 of whom were at work in the immediate vicinity of the disaster.

It was announced that some of the men had come out of the mine through an abandoned entry nearly three miles distant.

Crowds of men, women and children were about the main entrance, some of them weeping.

Among the heroes of the day was Rev. James Law, pastor of the First M. E. church. He was at one time a miner. On hearing of the disaster he went directly to the mine. Stripping himself to the waist and seizing a miner's lamp he said "come on." More came than were necessary.

Fire Boss Farrar, Pit Boss Broderick and Superintendent Simpson, also a member of the firm, would not talk of the cause.

Coroner P. F. Smith of Uniontown arrived here last night. He empaneled a jury at once to hold an inquest this morning. He said a searching investigation would be made. The mine has been in operation for more than 35 years.

It is estimated that an area of several cubic miles has been taken out. At present the mine is being operated by the Empire Coal company. The firm consists of John D. Simpson, C. S. Van Horn, William and Daniel Livingstone and Mrs. M. D. Hogg. They have operated it for nearly two years, succeeding Snowden, Simpson and Hall.

Six months ago there was trouble at the mine. John Armstrong was fire boss and Aquilla Underwood was pit boss. On moving the fire boss put up a danger signal at the entry leading to the room, and told the men not to enter the mine, as there was too much gas. Pit Boss Underwood disagreed with him, and the district mine inspector was called, who also said there was gas in the mine. As a result of the disagreement both bosses were discharged.

The men refused to go into the mine. Armstrong had been employed in the mine for six years previous to the difficulty. Farrar and Broderick, the present fire and pit bosses, are strangers here, having been employed only several days ago. They came here from the Lee shaft in the coke region. The mine shut down July 9, 1898, and resumed work last Saturday.

Asked That the Nebraska Quota Be Reduced to Its Proportion.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Col. Bryan Governor Holcomb and Congressman Stark again visited the war department yesterday and had a conference with Adjutant General Corbin, after which they went to the White House for another conference with the president. Upon leaving the White House Governor Holcomb said that the only request they had made is to have a number of the enlisted men mustered out to reduce the Nebraska quota, which he said was out of proportion.

The governor stated that no representations had been made concerning the attitude of Colonel Bryan personally and he could not say whether the colonel would seek to resign or to secure a furlough.

MISS DAVIS' FUNERAL.

Simple Ceremony in the Church—Procession to the Cemetery Nearly a Mile in Length.

RICHMOND, Sept. 24.—At the funeral services in St. Paul's church yesterday, over the remains of Miss Winnie Davis, Rev. Dr. Carmichael announced the first hymn, "How Firm a Foundation," which was a favorite of General Robert E. Lee's. After the hymn had been sung Rev. Dr. Hoge read a psalm for the day and "Nearer My God to Thee" was sung. Dr. Carmichael read the lesson, "Art Thou Weary" was then sung and at its close the veterans moved out with the casket. Mrs. Davis was prostrated, and it was several minutes before the grief-stricken mother could rise.

The procession was headed by the marshal and his staff, General Alonzo Phillips and staff. Then came six companies of state troops and the Richmond Howitzers. Then came the veterans' organizations headed by the First regiment band. Amid the tolling of bells of many churches the procession proceeded to Hollywood cemetery, marching between dense lines of humanity the entire distance. The procession was nearly a mile in length, though the carriages were driven two abreast.

At the grave, after the casket had been placed on the supports, the face section was removed for a moment and Mrs. Davis and her daughter, Mrs. Davis, kissed the deceased. Mrs. Hayes sat in an armchair near the grave and Mrs. Hayes knelt by her side. The Centenary Methodist church choir sang "Sleep Thy Last Sleep." The committal prayers were read by Dr. Carmichael.

ENTERTAINED GARCIA.

Americans and Cubans Showed the Cuban General Honor on His Visit to Santiago.

SANTIAGO DE CUBA, Sept. 24.—General Calixto Garcia visited Santiago Thursday the first time since he left there in a bad temper, on July 17. At 9 o'clock in the morning General Wood, with a portion of General Lawton's staff and several American officers, met General Garcia outside the city limits and escorted him into the town. Garcia was accompanied by his staff and by his son, Colonel Calixto Garcia, by many Cuban officers who have recently come to Santiago and by 200 Cuban cavalry.

The streets through which the party passed were thronged with cheering people. He was met at the door by General Lawton and an informal reception by the American officers was held in the audience room. At night another reception was tendered General Garcia at the San Carlos club.

In the course of a speech, General Garcia expressed gratitude to the United States.

TO SHELVE ROOSEVELT

Scheme Concocted by the Supporters of Black.

CLAIM THAT TEDDY IS INELIGIBLE.

They Say He Swore to Washington as His Residence Three Different Times. Chairman Odell Not Scared, Neither Was Roosevelt—Denied at Washington.

ALBANY, Sept. 24.—Some of the supporters of Governor Black claimed last night that Colonel Roosevelt was ineligible for the nomination for governor. A delegation left yesterday afternoon for New York, it is alleged, to tell Senator Platt.

They claim that when sworn in as assistant secretary of the navy, when he accepted his commission in the army and also when he swore off an assessment for personal property at Oyster Bay, he declared himself a resident of Washington.

About midnight Chairman B. E. Odell, Jr., of the Republican state committee, was interviewed at the Fifth Avenue hotel.

"We knew all about the affidavits signed by Colonel Theodore Roosevelt," said Mr. Odell, "and we are not in the least worried. The best lawyers and the best judges in the city have had the subject under discussion all day, and they are unanimously of the opinion that there is nothing in these documents which will prevent the nomination and election of Colonel Roosevelt."

"In the first place, there is abundant evidence to the effect that Colonel Roosevelt's real residence was at Oyster Bay, L. I. We have many letters and documents to show that Mr. Roosevelt regarded Oyster Bay as his real home. And the courts have decided that a man's intent governs in the matter of residence. Mr. Roosevelt paid taxes at Oyster Bay, his house was there, his servants there and his family there a considerable part of the time."

"Under the laws of the state of New York assessments cannot be levied on personal property except where a man actually lives."

The World today printed what purported to be an affidavit from Mr. Roosevelt, swearing to Washington as his place of residence.

Colonel Theodore Roosevelt declared the story of his not being a resident of New York state was without foundation. He did not seem very much worried about the matter.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—When Col. Roosevelt was commissioned as lieutenant colonel and subsequently as colonel of the rough riders, he was credited to New York. In the war department's official publication of the list of volunteer officers, Colonel Roosevelt's residence is given as New York.

WON'T RECOGNIZE THEM.

The President Will Receive Aguinaldo's Representatives Only as Individuals, Not as Representatives.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—It is probable that if Agoncillo and Lopez, the two representatives of Aguinaldo, who arrived Thursday at San Francisco, call at the White House on their way through Washington to Paris, they will be admitted to see President McKinley, but only as individuals and not as representatives of any government.

Admiral Dewey, who was in command of all the United States forces during the most critical period, expressly cabled the secretary of the navy that he had entered into no formal agreement with Aguinaldo. If General Otis followed his instructions, and of that there can be no doubt, he also refrained from entering into any entangling agreements. As for Consul General Wildman, any undertaking he may have assumed with Aguinaldo must have been on his own personal and individual responsibility and would be without formal standing, inasmuch as he had not the express authorization from the state department.

TO ARM FILIPINOS.

San Francisco Paper Says Germans Will Send Guns and Drill Them to Fight the Americans.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24.—The Post yesterday published a sensational story to the effect that Germany is planning to send numerous trading vessels to the Philippine islands and will arm 150,000 Filipinos besides furnishing Krupp guns and artillery for field use. The islanders, The Post alleges, will be thoroughly drilled by German officers, and by February Aguinaldo will be prepared to make an onslaught on the American forces.

PROPOSE TO AID THEM.

American Cuban Commissioners Ask For Help For Needy Americans.

HAVANA, Sept. 24.—The American commissioners, in view of the great number of American citizens in the island who require aid, and having no

American consul here to distribute relief, have, according to report, asked the Washington government for a special credit to attend to these urgent requirements.

It is proposed that frame barracks, ready to be put together, shall be shipped from the United States before the American troops are brought here. Mr. Robert P. Porter was given a banquet by the leading club of Cienfuegos while in that city.

A FRATERNAL CONCERT.

Most of Peace Commissioners and Sir William Marriott Spoke—Anglo-American Sentiments Expressed.

QUEENSTOWN, Sept. 24.—The Cunard line steamer Campania, from New York, on Sept. 17, with the United States peace commission on board, arrived here at about 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, with all well on board, excepting Senator Gray, who had been suffering from neuralgia.

There was a concert on Thursday on board the Campania, in aid of the seamen's charities. Senator Frye presided. He referred to England's victory over the Spanish armada and Dewey's great victory. In concluding his remarks, Senator Frye said:

"May God bless American and British tars. May the Angel of Peace touch your hearts tonight."

The collection netted $316 for the seamen's societies. "My Country 'Tis of Thee" and "God Save the Queen" were sung.

Sir William Marriott then proposed a vote of thanks to the chairman, adding, after hearty cheers, that "Britannia Rules the Waves," should now be amended so that some word representing Great Britain and the United States may be substituted for Britannia.

Senator Davis said in part, impressively, that by Divine dispensation the last three months had brought about a better feeling between Great Britain and the United States than ever before.

Judge Day referred to the fact that while British citizenship has been a ready passport everywhere, American citizenship now none the less furnishes a passport everywhere equal to any warrant of manhood. The speaker added that he could not talk of the mission, but he hoped all would be gratified to welcome the commission on its return from the consummation of a peace honorable to the United States and alike to the other interested power.

Whitelaw Reid also spoke. He regretted the fact that the American commission in going abroad should not be sailing under its own flag and in a vessel built in America.

The commissioners expect to stay in London until Monday and then go to Paris.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Sept. 24.—Gov. Bradley upon receiving a telegram conveying the rumor that arrangements are being made to have the Corbett-McCoy fight in this state, near Cincinnati, issued a proclamation yesterday warning all persons not to attend the same and directing the peace officers of the state to take steps to suppress the fight if attempted in Kentucky.

There was a concert on Thursday on board the Campania, in aid of the seamen's charities. Senator Frye presided. He referred to England's victory over the Spanish armada and Dewey's great victory. In concluding his remarks, Senator Frye said:

"May God bless American and British tars. May the Angel of Peace touch your hearts tonight."

The collection netted $316 for the seamen's societies. "My Country 'Tis of Thee" and "God Save the Queen" were sung.

Sir William Marriott then proposed a vote of thanks to the chairman, adding, after hearty cheers, that "Britannia Rules the Waves," should now be amended so that some word representing Great Britain and the United States may be substituted for Britannia.

Senator Davis said in part, impressively, that by Divine dispensation the last three months had brought about a better feeling between Great Britain and the United States than ever before.

Judge Day referred to the fact that while British citizenship has been a ready passport everywhere, American citizenship now none the less furnishes a passport everywhere equal to any warrant of manhood. The speaker added that he could not talk of the mission, but he hoped all would be granted to welcome the commission on its return from the consummation of a peace honorable to the United States and alike to the other interested power.

Whitelaw Reid also spoke. He regretted the fact that the American commission in going abroad should not be sailing under its own flag and in a vessel built in America.

The commissioners expect to stay in London until Monday and then go to Paris.

But Trenton Potters Are Still at Work.

ALL OF THEM SEEM DISAPPOINTED

Because the Industry Has Not Pushed to the Front as It Has in East Liverpool. A Correspondent's View of the Situation.

The manufacturing potters of Trenton are not pleased with trade prospects. A correspondent in writing to a trade paper, says:

"Two years ago come October the manufacturing potters of Trenton thought that they had good reason for believing that business would revive and be once more what it had been away back in the early nineties. But it was a vain hope, for something always turned up to knock the bottom out of any prospect that was sighted; and last spring, just when it was decided that things must be better, the merry war with Spain must come along to blast all hopes of a prosperous spring season. Now that hostilities have ceased for a time there is another break in the leaden sky, and some of the manufacturers indulge in the hope that we have seen the last of the dullness which has made potting anything but a picnic for the last five years.

"The most important matter for domestic manufacturers to settle now is that of prices, and what they will be in the future. Already the byword is passing around that rates have gone to such a low figure that the man who takes big orders makes big losses. Be that as it may, the truth really is that some of the books closed up last winter with very skimpy balances on the right side. This state of things is hardly satisfactory in view of the fact that the domestic manufacturers have practically secured control of the home market in staple goods. This may be questioned by some who are not yet ready to believe it possible that the long-fought-for and long-hoped-for condition has really arrived. Certain reports coming from different parts of the country point unmistakably to the fact that the American potter has won just enough recognition to start a new line of thought in the minds of those who are far-seeing enough to discern the effects of the new dispensation."

ROUGH RIDERS' ADIEU.

Colonel Roosevelt's Men Present Him With a Bronze Statue.

HIS HEART WAS DEEPLY TOUCHED.

His Men Were Dearer to Him, He Said, Than Anybody on Earth Except His Own Family—Praises Them For Their Good Work and Shakes Hands With Every One—Praise For Smoked Yankees.

The camp of the rough riders was in tumult all day recently. Four troops of the command were to be paid off and mustered out of service. Still more important, there was a surprise in store for the colonel. The men all knew about it, but Colonel Roosevelt gave his word that he did not know the rough riders were to make a present to him until 20 minutes before they asked him to accept the gift.

It was about 1 o'clock p. m. when Colonel Roosevelt was summoned from his tent. He saw his command drawn up informally in a square, in the center of which stood a pine table. Upon it was something over which was thrown a horse blanket. Many other people had been attracted to the spot, and some had been told what was to be expected. There were nurses, a score of them, officers from various regiments, doctors and men and women visitors and a detail of about 200 colored troopers from the Ninth and Tenth cavalry. The rough riders think there is nothing like the colored soldiers and the black regiments fairly worship the volunteer cavalry. Lieutenant Colonel Brodie escorted Colonel Roosevelt to a place in front of the table. The colonel was plainly flustered. His tanned face took on a deep red tinge, and before a word had been said there was a moisture about his eyes that told that he was moved. Will S. Murphy, a private of Troop M, rough riders, and a judge in the Indian Territory, stepped from the crowd and, doffing his hat, said:

"A few moments since I was informed that I had been selected to present to you as a very slight token of the admiration, love and esteem in which you are held by the officers and men of your regiment a 'Broncho Buster' in bronze which has been prepared to especially typify the idea which must have been in your mind when you felt called upon to raise a regiment of men to assist your country in the recent struggle so gloriously ended. At this time it is not possible or appropriate that I should go into the details of the organization of that regiment or mention the many glorious deeds accomplished and hardships endured by you, and the world itself knows what those hardships were. History will record them, and honor will be given where honor is due.

"It is fitting, however, that I, one of the troopers from the ranks of your regiment, should say that the honor given me in making this presentation is due to the fact that it is well known that, while you held your officers in the highest esteem on account of their gallantry, bravery and ability, your heart of hearts was ever with your men, whether in tented field or in the trenches before the enemy's lines or, better still, in the trenches taken from the enemy. In conclusion allow me to say that one and all, from the highest to the lowest hailing from this great and united country, will carry in our hearts a pleasant remembrance of your every act, for they have always been of the kindest as colonel of the rough riders, and we hope that 'The Broncho Buster' will continue through life to remind you of that fact."

There was a rousing cheer as Judge Murphy, when he had concluded, removed the horse blanket and disclosed Frederic Remington's statue of "The Broncho Buster." "Three cheers for Colonel Roosevelt!" some one shouted, and then the cowboy contingents sent up cheers and their peculiar yells, which could be heard a mile away. As Colonel Roosevelt replied to Private Murphy there were tears in his eyes. Several times he faltered while he spoke. He said:

"Officers and Men—I really do not know what to say to you. Nothing could possibly happen that would touch and please me as this has touched and pleased me. Trooper Murphy said quite rightly that my men were nearest my heart, for, while I know I need not say to my officers in what a deep regard I hold them, they will not mind me saying that just a little bit closer come the men. I have never tried to coddle you and have never hesitated to call upon you to spend your best blood like water. Of course I tried to do all I could for you, and you are the best judges as to whether I have succeeded or not.

"I am proud of this regiment beyond measure. I am proud of it because it is a typical American regiment. The foundation of the regiment was the cow puncher and we have got him here in bronze. No gift could have been so appropriate as this bronze of Frederic Remington's. The men of the west and southwest, horsemen, riflemen and herders of cattle, have been the backbone of this regiment, which demonstrates that Uncle Sam has another reserve of fighting men to call upon if the necessity arises. The west stands ready to give tens of thousands of men like you, and we are only samples of the fighters the west can put forth. Besides the cow puncher this regiment contained men from every section of the country, every state in the Union, and because of that we feel proud of it.

"It is primarily an American regiment and it is American because it is composed of all the races which have made America their country by adoption and those who have claimed it as their country by inheritance. It gives me extreme pleasure to look around among you and see men of every occupation, men of means and men who work with their hands for a livelihood, and at the same time know that I have you for friends. You are men of widely different pursuits, yet you stand here side by side; you fought shoulder to shoulder. No man asked quarter for himself and each one went in to show that he was as good as his neighbor. That is the American spirit. You cannot imagine how proud I am of your friendship and regard.

"I have also a profound respect for you because you have fighting qualities and because you had the qualities which enabled you to get into the fight. Outside of my own immediate family, as I said before, I shall never show as strong ties as I do toward you. I am more than pleased that you feel the same toward me. I realized when I took charge of you that I was taking upon myself a great responsibility. I cared for you as individuals, but I did not forget that at any moment it might be necessary to sacrifice the individual for the whole. You would have scorned a commander who would have hesitated to expose you to any risk. I was bound that no other regiment should get any nearer to the Spanish lines than you got, and I do not think any did. [Cheers.]

"We parted with many in the fight who could ill be spared, and I think that the most vivid memorial that we will take away with us will be of those whom we left under Cuban sod and those who died in the hospitals here in the United States—the men who died from wounds and the men who with the same devotion to country died from disease. I cannot mention all the names now, but three—Capron, O'Neill and Fish—will suffice. They were men who died in the pride of their youthful strength.

"Now, just a word more I want to say to some of the men I see standing around not of your number. I refer to the regiments, cavalry regiments, who occupied the right and left flanks of us at Las Quasimas—the Ninth and Tenth cavalry regiments. [Prolonged applause.] The Spaniards called them 'smoked Yankees,' but we found them to be an excellent breed of Yankees. I am sure that I speak the sentiments of every man and officer in this assemblage when I say that between you and the other cavalry regiments there is a tie which we trust will never be broken. [Cheers.]

"I would have been most deeply touched if the officers had given me this testimonial; but, coming from you, my men, I appreciate it tenfold. It comes to me from you who shared the hardships of the campaign with me, who gave me a piece of your hard tack when I had none and who gave me your blankets when I had none to lie upon. To have such a gift come from this peculiarly American regiment touches me more than I can say. This is something I shall hand down to my children, and I shall value it more than I do the weapons I carried through the campaign."

"Now let us have three cheers and a tiger for our colonel," cried Captain Curry of H Troop. The cheers and tiger were given in a hearty way. "Now, boys," said Colonel Roosevelt, "I wish to take each of you by the hand as a special privilege and say goodbye to you individually. This is to be our farewell in camp, but we shall meet again in New York." The rough riders formed in line and marched by the colonel, each shaking the hand of his leader.—New York World.

HUNDRED POUND NUGGET.

Was Found by a Priest in West Australia and Caused a Stampede.

Father Long of Vancouver, a priest, recently found a nugget in West Australia weighing 100 pounds. The news of the discovery caused a stampede, but Father Long refused to tell exactly where the nugget was found. Next day 6,000 miners gathered in front of Donnellan's public house, where the priest was a guest, and clamored for the facts about the finding of the nugget. Father Long at length yielded.

He said the nugget was in the shape of a sickle, and he had called it the "Sacred and Golden Sickle," as it had been found as the result of a vision that came to a poor but holy parishioner. It had been dug up by the priest, guided by the parishioner. The nugget had been found clean and brilliant as if polished, six feet under the surface, on the Kurnalpa road, a quarter of a mile from the nearest lake. When the nugget was exhibited and the place indicated, the crowd made a wild rush for the spot in buggies, on horseback and on foot.—New York Sun.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning Sept. 25. Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle. TOPIC.—"What is true success?"—Math. xvi. 21-27.

Worldly success is often not true success. Few people in the world really have correct ideas as to what success is. To many to succeed means to lay up an immense fortune; to others it means to reach some high position in the social or political world; to others, again, it has no other meaning than the satisfying of the appetites and desires of life, no matter in what direction they may run. To achieve what we start out in life to achieve, no matter what the object of life may be, is the highest idea that most people have of success. But, alas, how many do that and then at the end of life feel that life, instead of having been a success, has been a miserable failure! The goal of life is won, but as we touch the crown it withers and fades, and we say to ourselves in deepest remorse: "This is not what we thought it was. This is not success. This is failure."

Christ's solemn words here suggest two things about true success.

1. True success comes from giving, not from getting. This may seem paradoxical, but it is true. "Whosoever will save his life shall lose it, and whosoever will lose his life for My sake shall find it." This is Christ's principle of success. To find the highest and truest life, which alone can be called success, we must lose our lives, we must sacrifice them, for Christ's sake and for the sake of humanity. True success lies in making the most of our lives for God and for humanity, and we can never do that if we are sordidly laying up gold, selfishly seeking for office or sating ourselves with the pleasures of life. Self must be eliminated to achieve success. Humiliation leads to exaltation. The cross is necessary to the crown.

2. True success is eternal, not temporal. Temporal success is an illusion. It has no reality. He only succeeds in life who has so used this world as to assure himself a safe entrance into eternal life. "What is a man profited if he gain the whole world and lose his own soul?" or the higher life of the soul in eternity? And if the gaining of the whole world would not compensate us for the loss of our souls how much less will it pay us to lose our souls for the trifling part of the world that we may gain. The world is not the true judge of man's failure or success. "The Son of Man shall come in the glory of His father, with His angels, and then He shall reward every man according to his works." This award will decide the success or failure of our lives, and it will prove that he who lost his life here for God, for Christ, for humanity, has found it, or, in other words, has succeeded.

Bible Readings.—Josh i, 8; Eccl. ix, 11; xii, 13, 14; Zech. iv, 6; Math. vi, 33; xxv, 14-30; Mark viii, 34-38; Luke xiv, 26-29; John xii, 24-26; I Cor. x, 31; xv, 58; Col. iii, 17; II Tim. iv, 7, 8; Rev. ii, 10; xxi, 7.

Responsibility.

A sense of responsibility not only holds one in check, but tends to develop what is good in him. Put a person in a position where trusts are committed to his care, or under conditions where he is expected to be good and to do good, he is all the more apt to display his character and aptitude to the best advantage. Men of worth are what they are because they have been put upon their mettle. People have trusted them, or parents and friends have shown that they expected something worthy of them, or conscience has in some way been aroused within them, or existing condition has forced them to do and to dare, and they have responded to the demands made upon them promptly and fully, to their own and others' benefit.—Presbyterian.

A Danger.

We shall be tempted to forget, but we must not forget, that we have for a quarter of a century been leading the way toward the new achievements of peace, that we have been preparing for the time when all controversies between nations shall be settled without resort to war. If we forget that, the imminent danger will be that we shall fall in love with war, and that, deluded by the phantom of military and naval glory, we shall seek new opportunities to use our strength and display our prowess as a dictator among the nations.—Christian Register.

Kindness From the Old.

Kindness seems to come with a double grace and tenderness from the old. It seems in them the hoarded and long purified benevolence of years, as if it had survived and conquered the baseness and selfishness of the ordeal it had passed—as if the wind which had broken the form had swept in vain across the heart, and the frosts which had chilled the blood and whitened the thin locks had no power over the warm tide of the affections.—Churchman.

Reserving Religion.

It is a pity that many reserve their religion for the still hour of worship, but fail to display it in the active duties of daily life. In the one case there are the bowed head, the gentle tone, the reverent feeling; in the other there are the scowl, the harsh temper, brute force and greed. Yet God is not the God of

GET YOUR NOTICE?

Many East Liverpool Citizens Have Acknowledged Receipt—The Question is Important.

A notice means a great deal. It all depends on the notice. There are many kinds. This one is serious. It's nature's notice. A warning note of trouble. Neglect it not, delay is dangerous! Where does it come? In the back. Why does it come? Because the kidneys are sick.

How does it come? With aches and pains. Backache, lame back and weak back are notices.

Notices of kidney trouble. Notices to take Doan's Kidney Pills. Don't read them wrongly. Don't take our advice—take your neighbors.

Lots of East Liverpool people can tell you.

There are many kidney remedies. But only one cure. Other kidney pills—but only one Doan's.

Here's one that knows: Mr. W. P. Cochran, of Mulberry street, East End, says: "At intervals for thirty years I had serious kidney and bladder trouble. I suffered with all the various symptoms in their worst form. The agony I went through can hardly be described. Many nights I rolled from one side to the other trying to find an easy position for my back. I could not move without having sharp twinges of pain and I was also troubled with a urinary difficulty, the secretions being very irregular and at times distressing. I ran down so that I could hardly help myself. Doctors treated me and I took a power of stuff. I had given up all hopes of being cured, having suffered so long and not finding anything that would give me relief more than a few days. When I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised as a never-failing remedy, I got a box at the W. & W. Pharmacy. After taking half of it I could see some improvement. I continued to improve from that time on. Doan's Kidney Pills did me more good than anything I ever used and I am quite free in expressing my opinion of them by saying that they are a good remedy for all kidney and bladder trouble."

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents, or mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no other.

The camp of the rough riders was in tumult all day recently. Four troops of the command were to be paid off and mustered out of service. Still more important, there was a surprise in store for the colonel. The men all knew about it, but Colonel Roosevelt gave his word that he did not know the rough riders were to make a present to him until 20 minutes before they asked him to accept the gift.

It was about 1 o'clock p. m. when Colonel Roosevelt was summoned from his tent. He saw his command drawn up informally in a square, in the center of which stood a pine table. Upon it was something over which was thrown a horse blanket. Many other people had been attracted to the spot, and some had been told what was to be expected. There were nurses, a score of them, officers from various regiments, doctors and men and women visitors and a detail of about 200 colored troopers from the Ninth and Tenth cavalry. The rough riders think there is nothing like the colored soldiers and the black regiments fairly worship the volunteer cavalry. Lieutenant Colonel Brodie escorted Colonel Roosevelt to a place in front of the table. The colonel was plainly flustered. His tanned face took on a deep red tinge, and before a word had been said there was a moisture about his eyes that told that he was moved. Will S. Murphy, a private of Troop M, rough riders, and a judge in the Indian Territory, stepped from the crowd and, doffing his hat, said:

"A few moments since I was informed that I had been selected to present to you as a very slight token of the admiration, love and esteem in which you are held by the officers and men of your regiment a 'Broncho Buster' in bronze which has been prepared to especially typify the idea which must have been in your mind when you felt called upon to raise a regiment of men to assist your country in the recent struggle so gloriously ended. At this time it is not possible or appropriate that I should go into the details of the organization of that regiment or mention the many glorious deeds accomplished and hardships endured by you, and the world itself knows what those hardships were. History will record them, and honor will be given where honor is due.

"It is fitting, however, that I, one of the troopers from the ranks of your regiment, should say that the honor given me in making this presentation is due to the fact that it is well known that, while you held your officers in the highest esteem on account of their gallantry, bravery and ability, your heart of hearts was ever with your men, whether in tented field or in the trenches before the enemy's lines or, better still, in the trenches taken from the enemy. In conclusion allow me to say that one and all, from the highest to the lowest hailing from this great and united country, will carry in our hearts a pleasant remembrance of your every act, for they have always been of the kindest as colonel of the rough riders, and we hope that 'The Broncho Buster' will continue through life to remind you of that fact."

There was a rousing cheer as Judge Murphy, when he had concluded, removed the horse blanket and disclosed Frederic Remington's statue of "The Broncho Buster." "Three cheers for Colonel Roosevelt!" some one shouted, and then the cowboy contingents sent up cheers and their peculiar yells, which could be heard a mile away. As Colonel Roosevelt replied to Private Murphy there were tears in his eyes. Several times he faltered while he spoke. He said:

"Officers and Men—I really do not know what to say to you. Nothing could possibly happen that would touch and please me as this has touched and pleased me. Trooper Murphy said quite rightly that my men were nearest my heart, for, while I know I need not say to my officers in what a deep regard I hold them, they will not mind me saying that just a little bit closer come the men. I have never tried to coddle you and have never hesitated to call upon you to spend your best blood like water. Of course I tried to do all I could for you, and you are the best judges as to whether I have succeeded or not.

"I am proud of this regiment beyond measure. I am proud of it because it is a typical American regiment. The foundation of the regiment was the cow puncher and we have got him here in bronze. No gift could have been so appropriate as this bronze of Frederic Remington's. The men of the west and southwest, horsemen, riflemen and herders of cattle, have been the backbone of this regiment, which demonstrates that Uncle Sam has another reserve of fighting men to call upon if the necessity arises. The west stands ready to give tens of thousands of men like you, and we are only samples of the fighters the west can put forth. Besides the cow puncher this regiment contained men from every section of the country, every state in the Union, and because of that we feel proud of it.

"It is primarily an American regiment and it is American because it is composed of all the races which have made America their country by adoption and those who have claimed it as their country by inheritance. It gives me extreme pleasure to look around among you and see men of every occupation, men of means and men who work with their hands for a livelihood, and at the same time know that I have you for friends. You are men of widely different pursuits, yet you stand here side by side; you fought shoulder to shoulder. No man asked quarter for himself and each one went in to show that he was as good as his neighbor. That is the American spirit. You cannot imagine how proud I am of your friendship and regard.

"I have also a profound respect for you because you have fighting qualities and because you had the qualities which enabled you to get into the fight. Outside of my own immediate family, as I said before, I shall never show as strong ties as I do toward you. I am more than pleased that you feel the same toward me. I realized when I took charge of you that I was taking upon myself a great responsibility. I cared for you as individuals, but I did not forget that at any moment it might be necessary to sacrifice the individual for the whole. You would have scorned a commander who would have hesitated to expose you to any risk. I was bound that no other regiment should get any nearer to the Spanish lines than you got, and I do not think any did. [Cheers.]

"We parted with many in the fight who could ill be spared, and I think that the most vivid memorial that we will take away with us will be of those whom we left under Cuban sod and those who died in the hospitals here in the United States—the men who died from wounds and the men who with the same devotion to country died from disease. I cannot mention all the names now, but three—Capron, O'Neill and Fish—will suffice. They were men who died in the pride of their youthful strength.

"Now, just a word more I want to say to some of the men I see standing around not of your number. I refer to the regiments, cavalry regiments, who occupied the right and left flanks of us at Las Quasimas—the Ninth and Tenth cavalry regiments. [Prolonged applause.] The Spaniards called them 'smoked Yankees,' but we found them to be an excellent breed of Yankees. I am sure that I speak the sentiments of every man and officer in this assemblage when I say that between you and the other cavalry regiments there is a tie which we trust will never be broken. [Cheers.]

"I would have been most deeply touched if the officers had given me this testimonial; but, coming from you, my men, I appreciate it tenfold. It comes to me from you who shared the hardships of the campaign with me, who gave me a piece of your hard tack when I had none and who gave me your blankets when I had none to lie upon. To have such a gift come from this peculiarly American regiment touches me more than I can say. This is something I shall hand down to my children, and I shall value it more than I do the weapons I carried through the campaign."

"Now let us have three cheers and a tiger for our colonel," cried Captain Curry of H Troop. The cheers and tiger were given in a hearty way. "Now, boys," said Colonel Roosevelt, "I wish to take each of you by the hand as a special privilege and say goodbye to you individually. This is to be our farewell in camp, but we shall meet again in New York." The rough riders formed in line and marched by the colonel, each shaking the hand of his leader.—New York World.

HUNDRED POUND NUGGET.

Father Long of Vancouver, a priest, recently found a nugget in West Australia weighing 100 pounds. The news of the discovery caused a stampede, but Father Long refused to tell exactly where the nugget was found. Next day 6,000 miners gathered in front of Donnellan's public house, where the priest was a guest, and clamored for the facts about the finding of the nugget. Father Long at length yielded.

He said the nugget was in the shape of a sickle, and he had called it the "Sacred and Golden Sickle," as it had been found as the result of a vision that came to a poor but holy parishioner. It had been dug up by the priest, guided by the parishioner. The nugget had been found clean and brilliant as if polished, six feet under the surface, on the Kur-nalpa road, a quarter of a mile from the nearest lake. When the nugget was exhibited and the place indicated, the crowd made a wild rush for the spot in buggies, on horseback and on foot.—New York Sun.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning Sept. 25. Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle. TOPIC.—"What is true success?"—Math. xvi, 21-27.

Worldly success is often not true success. Few people in the world really have correct ideas as to what success is. To many to succeed means to lay up an immense fortune; to others it means to reach some high position in the social or political world; to others, again, it has no other meaning than the satisfying of the appetites and desires of life, no matter in what direction they may run. To achieve what we start out in life to achieve, no matter what the object of life may be, is the highest idea that most people have of success. But, alas, how many do that and then at the end of life feel that life, instead of having been a success, has been a miserable failure! The goal of life is won, but as we touch the crown it withers and fades, and we say to ourselves in deepest remorse: "This is not what we thought it was. This is not success. This is failure."

Christ's solemn words here suggest two things about true success.

1. True success comes from giving, not from getting. This may seem paradoxical, but it is true. "Whoever will save his life shall lose it, and whoever will lose his life for My sake shall find it." This is Christ's principle of success. To find the highest and truest life, which alone can be called success, we must lose our lives, we must sacrifice them, for Christ's sake and for the sake of humanity. True success lies in making the most of our lives for God and for humanity, and we can never do that if we are sordidly laying up gold, selfishly seeking for office or sating ourselves with the pleasures of life. Self must be eliminated to achieve success. Humiliation leads to exaltation. The cross is necessary to the crown.

2. True success is eternal, not temporal. Temporal success is an illusion. It has no reality. He only succeeds in life who has so used this world as to assure himself a safe entrance into eternal life. "What is a man profited if he gain the whole world and lose his own soul" or the higher life of the soul in eternity? And if the gaining of the whole world would not compensate us for the loss of our souls how much less will it pay us to lose our souls for the trifling part of the world that we may gain. The world is not the true judge of man's failure or success. "The Son of Man shall come in the glory of His father, with His angels, and then He shall reward every man according to his works." This award will decide the success or failure of our lives, and it will prove that he who lost his life here for God, for Christ, for humanity, has found it, or, in other words, has succeeded.

Bible Readings.—Josh i, 8; Eccl. ix, 11; xii, 13, 14; Zech. iv, 6; Math. vi, 33; xxv, 14-30; Mark xiii, 34-38; Luke xiv, 26-29; John xii, 24-26; I Cor. x, 31; xv, 58; Col. iii, 17; II Tim. iv, 7, 8; Rev. ii, 10; xxi, 7.

Responsibility.

A sense of responsibility not only holds one in check, but tends to develop what is good in him. Put a person in a position where trusts are committed to his care, or under conditions where he is expected to be good and to do good, he is all the more apt to display his character and aptitude to the best advantage. Men of worth are what they are because they have been put upon their mettle. People have trusted them, or parents and friends have shown that they expected something worthy of them, or conscience has in some way been aroused within them, or existing condition has forced them to do and to dare, and they have responded to the demands made upon them promptly and fully, to their own and others' benefit.—Presbyterian.

A Danger.

We shall be tempted to forget, but we must not forget, that we have for a quarter of a century been leading the way toward the new achievements of peace, that we have been preparing for the time when all controversies between nations shall be settled without resort to war. If we forget that, the imminent danger will be that we shall fall in love with war, and that, deluded by the phantom of military and naval glory, we shall seek new opportunities to use our strength and display our prowess as a dictator among the nations.—Christian Register.

Kindness From the Old.

Kindness seems to come with a double grace and tenderness from the old. It seems in them the hoarded and long purified benevolence of years, as if it had survived and conquered the baseness and selfishness of the ordeal it had passed—as if the wind which had broken the form had swept in vain across the heart, and the frosts which had chilled the blood and whitened the thin locks had no power over the warm tide of the affections.—Churchman.

Reserving Religion.

It is a pity that many reserve their religion for the still hour of worship, but fail to display it in the active duties of daily life. In the one case there are the bowed head, the gentle tone, the reverent feeling; in the other there are the scowl, the harsh temper, brute force and greed. Yet God is not the God of

GET YOUR NOTICE?

Many East Liverpool Citizens Have Acknowledged Receipt—The Question is Important.

A notice means a great deal. It all depends on the notice. There are many kinds. This one is serious. It's nature's notice. A warning note of trouble. Neglect it not, delay is dangerous! Where does it come? In the back. Why does it come? Because the kidneys are sick.

How does it come? With aches and pains. Backache, lame back and weak back are notices.

Notices of kidney trouble. Notices to take Doan's Kidney Pills. Don't read them wrongly. Don't take our advice—take your neighbors.

Lots of East Liverpool people can tell you. There are many kidney remedies. But only one cure. Other kidney pills—but only one Doan's.

Here's one that knows: Mr. W. P. Cochran, of Mulberry street, East End, says: "At intervals for thirty years I had serious kidney and bladder trouble. I suffered with all the various symptoms in their worst form. The agony I went through can hardly be described. Many nights I rolled from one side to the other trying to find an easy position for my back. I could not move without having sharp twinges of pain and I was also troubled with a urinary difficulty, the secretions being very irregular and at times distressing. I ran down so that I could hardly help myself. Doctors treated me and I took a power of stuff. I had given up all hopes of being cured, having suffered so long and not finding anything that would give me relief more than a few days. When I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised as a never-failing remedy, I got a box at the W. & W. Pharmacy. After taking half of it I could see some improvement. I continued to improve from that time on. Doan's Kidney Pills did me more good than anything I ever used and I am quite free in expressing my opinion of them by saying that they are a good remedy for all kidney and bladder trouble."

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents, or mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no other.

Those Who Succeed Best.

The men whom I have seen succeed best in life have always been cheerful and hopeful men, who went about their business with a smile on their faces and took the changes and chances of this mortal life like men, facing rough and smooth alike as it came, and so found the truth of the old proverb that "good times and bad times and all times pass over."—Exchange.

ANOTHER MEETING IS CALLED

It Will Be Held Next Week When Something Is Expected—Found His Property at Smithfield—All the News of Wells-ville.

The directors of the Improvement company met last evening in the council chamber. Samuel Stevenson, E. G. Whittaker, Judge Smith and G. B. Aten were out of town, and some others were unable to be present, so there was little business transacted.

Work at the West End pottery is being pushed rapidly toward completion, and it is hoped and expected that in time a mill will be built also, thus fulfilling the long delayed promise to the lot purchasers in that section. This the Improvement company confidently expect to accomplish.

Found the Horse.

John Kennedy received a message from Smithfield yesterday that his horse and buggy were at that place, and he left town immediately.

Two men had offered the rig to a dealer for $50, and later had agreed to take $25. The dealer was suspicious and giving the men $5 told them to call later for the balance. He sent word immediately and held the whole outfit until Mr. Kennedy arrived. This proved to be the first correct clue.

Constable Thorn was called on Tuesday by the sheriff of Jefferson county to identify a horse and buggy at Minerva, but when he saw it he knew it was not the rig he was after. A young man who is a school teacher in the vicinity, had been driving with two young ladies and they had all been thrown over an embankment. Later the horse in its struggles had righted the buggy and gone on the road some distance to Valley where it had been caught and put in the stable at the farm of Mrs. Phoebe Clews, and then word was sent to the sheriff who communicated with the officers in town.

Private Holloway Dying.

Word comes from Mrs. Holloway, this morning, that her son, Private Holloway, was sinking rapidly and would probably die. The doctors have given up all hope for his recovery. He became very sick last week, although he has been in the hospital for a long time.

Sailor In Town.

A sailor in full costume attracted much attention at the depot yesterday afternoon. His name could not be learned, but he was on his way from Philadelphia to his home in Detroit. His vessel is the Richmond.

The News of Wellsville.

The football team of the Steubenville high school have challenged the local high school to a game, and have been accepted. Arrangements are being made, and the game will probably come off during this month.

Rev. C. L. Bradshaw, of Brocknaville, Pa., will fill the pulpit of the First Presbyterian church on Sunday.

Rev. Earl D. Holtz, the new pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, is expected to fill the pulpit tomorrow.

Brakeman Gilson of the Cleveland and Pittsburgh road, who has been confined to his home in Wellsville suffering with typhoid fever, is steadily improving. His recovery is sure and he will be able to be out within a very short time.

Miss Jane Dickson and Miss Helen Dickson took the afternoon train yesterday for Bellevue, Pa. They will visit their sister and attend the exposition, returning Monday morning in time for school.

G. W. Pease left yesterday afternoon for New Castle after a short visit with his brother, Ellis Pease.

The household goods of E. Moore, of Allegheny, have been received at the upper depot.

Mrs. R. J. Patton, of Toronto, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Ina Benedick, left yesterday for her home taking with her Master Eddie Benedick.

Mrs. Jennie McKay, of Irondale, was visiting friends in town yesterday.

Mrs. M. J. Davidson and her daughter, ter, Jennie, and Miss Della Tolson, of Salineville, were in town on business yesterday.

Mrs. James Dallas, of Irondale, was in town yesterday.

Miss Belle Rose arrived yesterday afternoon from Pittsburg and left this morning for a week's visit with friends at Minerva.

Cheap Trips.

Persons contemplating business or pleasure trips to the northwest, west or southwest may arrange for an enjoyable journey at low fare by communicating with J. K. Dillon, district passenger agent of the Pennsylvania lines, No. 360 Fifth avenue, Pittsburg. He represents the short lines to Chicago, St. Louis, Louisville and Cincinnati, the gateways to the northwest, west and southwest. Daily through train service from Pittsburg, and from western Pennsylvania and eastern Ohio points. The Pennsylvania is the only system of railways having a double route between Pittsburg and Chicago. Tell Mr. Dillon where you wish to go, and he will cheerfully furnish full information about special low rates and quick through time.

Frenchwomen as Wives.

Max O'Rell considers that Frenchwomen make better wives for poor or struggling men than do the women of other nationalities. Their ambition and keen sense, he says, are great helps to a man's efforts, and they never allow themselves to weary in their endeavors to be cheery and charming. Mr. O'Rell says that the women are naturally exceedingly energetic and endowed with that vivacity which is so great a support to their own spirits, and that this enables them to impart animation and courage to others.

Other writers have noticed this peculiarity of temperament in Frenchwomen. It has been said that Americans have it to a certain degree, that degree which compels a constant activity, but that lack of true balance makes womanly energy in the western continent fitful and uncertain, while the Gallic women will be found of more equable natures. —New York Tribune.

It is stated that the merchandise carried by rail in the United States is double the amount of land carriage of all the other nations of the earth combined. This means that the 70,000,000 people of the United States transport twice as much merchandise as the remaining 1,400,000,000 of mankind.

Brevity.

The late Duc de Sagan used to relate this story: "King Frederick William III was very sparing of words, as is well known, but one day he was told there was at Toplitz, where he was then drinking the waters, a Hungarian magnate still less talkative than the king. An opportunity for a meeting was soon managed, and the following conversation took place, the king beginning: 'Bathing?' 'Drinking.' 'Soldier?' 'Millionaire.' 'Good.' 'Policeman?' 'King.' 'Compliments.'"

Cheap Trips.

Persons contemplating business or pleasure trips to the northwest, west or southwest may arrange for an enjoyable journey at low fare by communicating with J. K. Dillon, district passenger agent of the Pennsylvania lines, No. 380 Fifth avenue, Pittsburg. He represents the short lines to Chicago, St. Louis, Louisville and Cincinnati, the gateways to the northwest, west and southwest. Daily through train service from Pittsburg, and from western Pennsylvania and eastern Ohio points. The Pennsylvania is the only system of railways having a double route between Pittsburg and Chicago. Tell Mr. Dillon where you wish to go, and he will cheerfully furnish full information about special low rates and quick through time.

Frenchwomen as Wives.

Max O'Rell considers that Frenchwomen make better wives for poor or struggling men than do the women of other nationalities. Their ambition and keen sense, he says, are great helps to a man's efforts, and they never allow themselves to weary in their endeavors to be cheery and charming. Mr. O'Rell says that the women are naturally exceedingly energetic and endowed with that vivacity which is so great a support to their own spirits, and that this enables them to impart animation and courage to others.

Other writers have noticed this peculiarity of temperament in Frenchwomen. It has been said that Americans have it to a certain degree, that degree which compels a constant activity, but that lack of true balance makes womanly energy in the western continent fitful and uncertain, while the Gallic women will be found of more equable natures.—New York Tribune.

It is stated that the merchandise carried by rail in the United States is double the amount of land carriage of all the other nations of the earth combined. This means that the 70,000,000 people of the United States transport twice as much merchandise as the remaining 1,400,000,000 of mankind.

Brevity.

The late Duc de Sagan used to relate this story: "King Frederick William III was very sparing of words, as is well known, but one day he was told there was at Toplitz, where he was then drinking the waters, a Hungarian magnate still less talkative than the king. An opportunity for a meeting was soon managed, and the following conversation took place, the king beginning: 'Bathing?' 'Drinking.' 'Soldier?' 'Millionaire.' 'Good.' 'Policeman?' 'King.' 'Compliments.' "

lieve him to be.

THE Jefferson club of Alliance en-

him an explanation at once.

gogues out of congress as he ever was

It matters not so much to the Phil-

THE PRESIDENT IS SURE.

A correspondent writing from Washington, says that President McKinley has no fears concerning the coming election, and feels confident he will be sustained through the remainder of his term by a Republican house of representatives. He believes the people understand the nature of the charges made, and has so much faith in their patriotism and good sense that he will not think they will support the Democratic ticket because certain of the officers of the army were incompetent.

It will be cheering news, when President McKinley hears after election day, that he was right in his view so far as the Eighteenth was concerned. This district should roll up a majority for Hon. R. W. Talyer that will recall the last election when General Sherwood made a canvass on what he pretended to believe was a platform.

Two Men Who Have Been In Jail Since Wednesday.

WILL EXPLAIN TO MAYOR BOUGH

What They Know of the Assault Upon
Michaels Who Is Still In Bed—Old Cases
Settled—The Solicitor May Go After a Fine.

Mayor Bough was in Lisbon yesterday, and as a result there was not much business for him to attend to this morning.

The hearing of Chip Gamble and Alex Heakin, who are supposed to be implicated in the trouble which occurred at the Pittsburg house in Second street Wednesday night, took place this afternoon at 3 o'clock. The men have been in jail since Wednesday night,
and no specific charge had been made against them up to noon.

Saloonist Michaels, who was badly injured during the trouble, had not improved much this morning. He rested very well during the night, but is not yet able to arise from his bed. The injuries to his eyes and head are very bad,
in fact, worse than was first thought.
John Boyle, who was involved in some trouble several weeks ago, called on the mayor Thursday night and paid his fine, which amounted to $9.60. The case had been in court for almost a month, and it is at last settled.

Recently there was a trial of unusual proportions which excited much interest among a certain class of people in the city. After all the evidence was heard the mayor reviewed the case, and assessed a large fine, which, with the costs, amounted to about three figures.
This has not been paid yet and it is thought the city solicitor will have to bring action to secure it. Some new developments may be made known within a few days.

TO MEET IN LISBON.

Liverpool People Will Take a Prominent Part.

The annual conference of District 12,
of the Ohio Missionary society of the Christian church, will meet in Lisbon
next Wednesday and Thursday.

The program has been received in this city and is a very lengthy one. Wednesday afternoon Rev. O. S. Reed will deliver an address on "How to create and maintain enthusiasm among Sunday school scholars." Miss Mary Vodrey will talk of the primary department,
and the report of Miss Alva Jackman,
secretary and treasurer of the association, is expected to be an interesting
one. Miss Mary Lyons, state secretary of the Christian Women's Board of missions, will also make an address.

AN OLD PREACHER

Who Was Well Known to Lutherans Is Dead.

Rev. Abraham N. Bartholomew, one of the oldest and best known Evangelical Lutheran ministers in this vicinity,
died Thursday at his home in Allegheny. He was 80 years old, and was born in Salem. For nearly half a century he had charges in the eastern section of Ohio. His last charge was the English Lutheran church at McKees
Rocks, where he served for six years.
He is survived by two daughters.

Reverend Bartholomew was too ill to attend the late session of synod here,
and his illness caused much comment
among the ministers who were present.

Moving Tracks.

The street railway company yesterday commenced moving out their tracks in Eighth and Jethro streets, and the streets are consequently in a very poor condition for teams.

As soon as the railway company finish their work the north 15 feet of the street will be paved.

FREE FOR ALL FIGHT

Because of a Difference at the Grand Opera House.

Thursday evening a number of young men began shoving each other as they were going into the Grand, and as a result some people became angry. They arranged matters to settle the difficulty after the performance was over,
and repaired to Thompson hill where
two of their number began to fight.
It was not long until the balance of the party were in the battle, and it wound up in a free-for-all fight, and several persons are today nursing black eyes.

On the River.

A small rise will be here within a few days. It will come from the heavy rains at the headwaters of the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers. The rise, it is thought, will amount to several feet,
which will give an excellent packet
height.

By the middle of next week
lower river packets are almost sure to be in operation. At the wharf this morning the marks registered 20 inches.

material inside as the outside is a new

How Francis Bacon Was Rid of Warts.

The taking away of Warts, by Rub-

Afterwardes when I was about 16 years old, being at Paris, there grew upon

English Embassadors Lady, who was a woman free from sup'stition, told me

Whereupon shee got a peice of Lard,

 not think they will support the Democratic ticket because certain of the officers of the army were incompetent.

It will be cheering news, when President McKinley hears after election day,
 that he was right in his view so far as the Eighteenth was concerned. This district should roll up a majority for Hon. R. W. Tayler that will recall the last election when General Sherwood
 made a canvass on what he pretended to believe was a platform.

TO BE HEARD TODAY

Two Men Who Have Been In Jail Since Wednesday.

WILL EXPLAIN TO MAYOR BOUGH

What They Know of the Assault Upon
 Michaels Who Is Still In Bed—Old Cases
 Settled—The Solicitor May Go After a Fine.

Mayor Bough was in Lisbon yesterday, and as a result there was not much business for him to attend to this morning.

The hearing of Chip Gamble and Alex Heakin, who are supposed to be implicated in the trouble which occurred at the Pittsburg house in Second street Wednesday night, took place this afternoon at 3 o'clock. The men have been in jail since Wednesday night,
 and no specific charge had been made
 against them up to noon.

Saloonist Michaels, who was badly
 injured during the trouble, had not improved much this morning. He rested
 very well during the night, but is not yet able to arise from his bed. The injuries to his eyes and head are very bad,
 in fact, worse than was first thought.
 John Boyle, who was involved in
 some trouble several weeks ago, called on the mayor Thursday night and paid
 his fine, which amounted to $9.60. The case had been in court for almost a month, and it is at last settled.

Recently there was a trial of unusual proportions which excited much interest among a certain class of people in the city. After all the evidence was heard the mayor reviewed the case, and
 assessed a large fine, which, with the costs, amounted to about three figures.
 This has not been paid yet and it is thought the city solicitor will have to bring action to secure it. Some new developments may be made known within a few days.

TO MEET IN LISBON.

Liverpool People Will Take a Prominent Part.

The annual conference of District 12,
 of the Ohio Missionary society of the Christian church, will meet in Lisbon
 next Wednesday and Thursday.

The program has been received in this city and is a very lengthy one. Wednesday afternoon Rev. O. S. Reed will deliver an address on "How to create and maintain enthusiasm among Sunday
 school scholars." Miss Mary Vodrey
 will talk of the primary department,
 and the report of Miss Alva Jackman,
 secretary and treasurer of the association, is expected to be an interesting
 one. Miss Mary Lyons, state secretary of the Christian Women's Board of missions, will also make an address.

AN OLD PREACHER

Who Was Well Known to Lutherans Is Dead.

Rev. Abraham N. Bartholomew, one
 of the oldest and best known Evangelical Lutheran ministers in this vicinity,
 died Thursday at his home in Allegheny. He was 80 years old, and was born in Salem. For nearly half a century he had charges in the eastern sec-
 English Lutheran church at McKees
 Rocks, where he served for six years.
 He is survived by two daughters.

Reverend Bartholomew was too ill to attend the late session of synod here,
 and his illness caused much comment
 among the ministers who were present.

Moving Tracks.

The street railway company yesterday
 commenced moving out their tracks in Eighth and Jethro streets, and the streets are consequently in a very poor condition for teams.

As soon as the railway company finish
 their work the north 15 feet of the street will be paved.

FREE FOR ALL FIGHT

Because of a Difference at the Grand Opera House.

Thursday evening a number of young men began shoving each other as they were going into the Grand, and as a result some people became angry. They arranged matters to settle the difficulty after the performance was over,
 and repaired to Thompson hill where
 two of their number began to fight.
 It was not long until the balance of the party were in the battle, and it wound
 up in a free-for-all fight, and several persons are today nursing black eyes.

On the River.

A small rise will be here within a few days. It will come from the heavy rains at the headwaters of the Allegheny
 and Monongahela rivers. The rise, it is thought, will amount to several feet,
 which will give an excellent packet
 height.

By the middle of next week
 lower river packets are almost sure to be in operation. At the wharf this morning the marks registered 20 inches.

How Francis Bacon Was Rid of Warts.

The taking away of Warts, by Rub-

 comon exp'ment: And I doe appre-

 Afterwards when I was about 16 years old, being at Paris, there grew upon both my handes a number of Warts (at ye least 100) in a Moneths space. The English Embassadors Lady, who was
 a woman free from sup'stition, told me
 one day. She would helpe me away with them.

Whereupon shee got a peice of Lard,
 with ye Skin on, and rubbed ye Warts all

 Childhood: Then she nayled the Peice of Lard with ye fat toward ye Sunne wch was to ye south. The Successes was, that within five weekes space, all the Warts went quite away: And ye Wart wch I had soe longe endured for

THE GASTON PROPERTY

Will Be Used as a Temporary Hospital.

SOME MONEY IS NOW NEEDED

To Place the Institution In Good Working Order—It Is Believed It Will Soon Meet All Expenses—Ladies Will Work Hard to Make It Successful.

The Hospital association held an important meeting last evening, and as a result a temporary hospital will probably be started in the city in the very near future.

The session was largely attended, and the committee appointed to view sites reported on several locations. Much discussion followed, and it was finally decided to lease the George Gaston property, in Calcutta road, for a period of two years, with the privilege of purchasing the building at the end of that time. The matter was put in the hands of the board of directors, and they will secure the lease as soon as possible.

It is the purpose of the association to open a temporary hospital just as soon as possible, and plans are now being formulated for fitting up the house and operating the hospital so that it will be almost self-sustaining. They will need funds to start the hospital, and soliciting committees will commence work at once, and the time for the opening of the hospital depends largely upon the generosity of citizens.

The site selected by the association is a very good one for a hospital. It is on high ground, easy of access and close to the heart of the city.

NANCY GUILFORD

Is Publicly Accused of the Death of Emma Gill.

BRIDGEPORT, Sept. 24.—[Special]—The superintendent of police announces that Dr. Nancy Guilford is responsible for the death of Emma Gill. He says the body was dismembered in a bathtub at the Guilford House. Harry Osley is named as accomplice.

Impartial.

An English clergyman, recently settled in a small town in Perthshire, met a farmer's boy while visiting the members of his congregation. In the course of conversation the boy said his parents had an aunt staying with them. The parson, not having much acquaintance with the Scottish language, and not quite comprehending what the boy said asked:

To which the young agriculturist replied:

"Weel, whiles the ane an whiles the ither, excep' when feyther leathers them taita."—Dundee People's Journal.

Dry Plate Photography.

The first amateur pictures on dry plates were made something after the method employed by Charles Lamb's celebrated Chinaman in obtaining roast pig. The Chinaman burned his house to roast his pig. The amateur tore his camera to pieces to get his picture. The first hand camera was a pasteboard box containing one plate. A pinhole served as a lens and after the exposure of the plate the box was taken to the dark room, cut open, and the plate extracted. This was rather expensive picture making, and it was not long before a magazine camera was invented, and suddenly all the world began taking pictures.—Elizabeth Flint Wade in St. Nicholas.

The Kind of Bird.

The party with the long hair and starving family, not to mention lesser symptoms of the literary bent, was less servile than usual.

"How about my poem?" he brusquely demanded.

"She's a bird," replied the conductor of the magazine.

"What kind of a bird?" persisted the man of letters, thoroughly aroused.

And the other, saying nothing, merely indicated with a gesture the pigeon-hole above his desk.—Detroit Journal.

Will Be Used as a Temporary Hospital.

SOME MONEY IS NOW NEEDED

To Place the Institution In Good Working Order—It Is Believed It Will Soon Meet All Expenses—Ladies Will Work Hard to Make It Successful.

The Hospital association held an important meeting last evening, and as a result a temporary hospital will probably be started in the city in the very near future.

The session was largely attended, and the committee appointed to view sites reported on several locations. Much discussion followed, and it was finally decided to lease the George Gaston property, in Calcutta road, for a period of two years, with the privilege of purchasing the building at the end of that time. The matter was put in the hands of the board of directors, and they will secure the lease as soon as possible.

It is the purpose of the association to open a temporary hospital just as soon as possible, and plans are now being formulated for fitting up the house and operating the hospital so that it will be almost self-sustaining. They will need funds to start the hospital, and soliciting committees will commence work at once, and the time for the opening of the hospital depends largely upon the generosity of citizens.

The site selected by the association is a very good one for a hospital. It is on high ground, easy of access and close to the heart of the city.

Mr. Macrum describes numerous incidents of the voyage, telling of the amusement on shipboard during the many days they were at sea. Among other things he mentioned that as they neared the equator it grew cold, and early in the morning, soon after the line had been crossed, he was compelled to secure another blanket.

Impartial.

An English clergyman, recently settled in a small town in Perthshire, met a farmer's boy while visiting the members of his congregation. In the course of conversation the boy said his parents had an aunt staying with them. The parson, not having much acquaintance with the Scottish language, and not quite comprehending what the boy said asked:

To which the young agriculturist replied:

"Weel, whiles the aue an whiles the ither, excep' when feyther leathers them laita."—Dundee People's Journal.

Dry Plate Photography.

The first amateur pictures on dry plates were made something after the method employed by Charles Lamb's celebrated Chinaman in obtaining roast pig. The Chinaman burned his house to roast his pig. The amateur tore his camera to pieces to get his picture. The first hand camera was a pasteboard box containing one plate. A pinhole served as a lens and after the exposure of the plate the box was taken to the dark room, cut open, and the plate extracted. This was rather expensive picture making, and it was not long before a magazine camera was invented, and suddenly all the world began taking pictures. —Elizabeth Flint Wade in St. Nicholas.

The Kind of Bird.

The party with the long hair and starving family, not to mention lesser symptoms of the literary bent, was less servile than usual.

"How about my poem?" he brusquely demanded.

"She's a bird," replied the conductor of the magazine.

"What kind of a bird?" persisted the man of letters, thoroughly aroused.

And the other, saying nothing, merely indicated with a gesture the pigeon-hole above his desk. —Detroit Journal.

AFTER WILD CAT MEN

Insurance Agents Must Locate In Ohio

IF THEY WOULD DO BUSINESS

The Department Is After Them, and Proposes to Take the Cases to the United States Court—West Virginia Agents In Danger.

A proposition that has been bothering the insurance officials of Ohio has just been settled by an action in the United States court at Buffalo.

It seems that for several years past there has been going on in the state what is known as "wild cat" insurance work or "overhead writing."

All efforts of the state insurance department has been to no avail. Agents would come into Ohio from other states and not taking out a license to do business in the state they would write insurance and then leave immediately. The insurance department could not get hold of them to bring suit against them, and, in fact, could not even find who they had on their list. The difficulties that confront them were these: Those who had taken out policies in the companies would not disclose their names or places of business, as it might make them lose the amount of money they had put in. Those who had refused to buy insurance had nothing to tell. Thus the state was at a loss to know what to do. Their only method of procedure, it would seem, would be to bring suit against the agents who had been doing what the department regards as illegal business.

The means taken by other states to get hold of these agents has been very gratifying to all of those connected with insurance in this state. The case in Buffalo is one where the United States authorities have taken hold of the agents and had them brought before the United States district court on a charge of illegal use of the mails. They hold that while soliciting insurance is not an illegal business, still when their company has not a station in this territory, they say that the use of the mails for them to accomplish what they could not by personal subscription is an illegal use of the mail.

In the case in Buffalo, agents have been soliciting business in this state and Deputy Commissioner of Insurance Stemmons has been called there to testify. Captain Stemmons knows little or nothing about the case, still he does know that agents have come from West Virginia and have solicited insurance in this state. He will be asked to show, however, that they have no right to do business in this state, as they have no license here.

The commissioner of insurance says with this as a cue he will begin proceedings against those who are writing "wild-cat" insurance in this state at once. He has his eye on several companies who have been doing this sort of work for a good while. The department has been after them but have never been able to corner them in any way. It is thought that they will have a number of cases in the United States court very shortly and some will be from this part of Ohio.

Lesson For the Week Beginning Sept. 25.
Comment by Rev. W. J. Yates, A. M.
Topic, The Barren Fig Tree.

SCRIPTURE READING.—Luke xiii, 6-9, "Why cumbereth it the ground?"

A fruit tree that bears no fruit is of little value. It must soon go to the wood pile and stove. We don't grow fruit trees for ornament nor for timber, but for fruit. Men are profitable only as they show intelligent integrity.

Why are so many worthless folks permitted to live? How pleasant this world would be if only the good were permitted to live! But this is not that kind of a world. It never was and never will be. Barren fig trees have appeared on all its hillsides and valleys. They still grow. The more barren of righteous fruit the more flourishing some people seem to be. Why doesn't God cut them down? Wealth, beauty, wit, genius, gracefulness, learning, all the natural advantages of soil and sunshine, seem to be theirs, but they produce little for the world's hunger. We look to them in vain in our famine. How often we grieve over them! How much good they might do if they would! We are attracted toward them by all they are. We cannot commend them nor defend them because of what they are not.

God doesn't hasten to remove them. We have no right to do so. What can be done? Try a little digging and cultivation. Put some time and effort into it. Study their nature, their surroundings, their troubles and hindrances. See what is the cause of the barrenness and study how best to remedy it. If it is a removable cause, take it away. Use tact. Many a person who has been morally and spiritually useless in the world needs only a little special care and cultivation to become perennially fruitful of all Christian graces.

This presence of barren trees in the Lord's orchard is a source of helplessness. It is a warning to those who do bear fruit that they may need pruning and care lest they fall into the same condition. It is also helpful in keeping ever in remembrance the real value of life as fruitage and not mere foliage. It gives opportunity for the exercise of Christian care and affectionate assistance, blessing the one rescued and more deeply benefiting the one who gives the help.

Let them grow, Master, and give us grace and strength to dig a little more about them.

Rev. M. C. B. Mason, D. D.

The great numbers of colored people in the membership of the Methodist Episcopal church have led many to desire a colored bishop and many others to believe it would be wise to have such

Rev. M. C. B. Mason, D. D.

one. Whether there ever will be such in this church is uncertain, but it is clear that there is no prejudice on account of color which prevents the church advancing to any office one who is fitted to occupy it efficiently. The election of Dr. Mason by the last general conference as one of the secretaries of the Freedmen's Aid and Southern Education society was gratifying to the church at large. He is of the negro race and manifests no disposition to apologize for the fact. He is every inch a man, great hearted, strong of body and mind, cultured and devoted. In public speech he is full of wit of the brightest kind, logical, polished, forceful and magnetic. He is a true orator of the best style. No man appears before the annual conferences who is more cordially welcomed and more gladly heard than this "brother in black." "Long may his bow abide in strength!"

Hadn't Heard of the War.

A party of fishermen found a man and his family up the Tennessee river who had never heard of the war with Spain. The man wouldn't believe it until a newspaper with reports from the battlefields was produced and read. The poorly informed native said his lack of information was due to the fact that he hadn't "bin over to town fer purty nigh a year."—Louisville Post.

Too High an Estimate.

Think of it, the Spanish functionaries at Havana demanded that Clara Barton pay $60,000 in revenue taxes before being permitted to land Red Cross provisions to feed Havana's starving people! Clearly we have not been mistaken in our estimate of Spanish character.—Boston Journal.

UNION LABELS.

It should be a deep-rooted principle of all union workmen and union sympathizers, and particularly those members of the different organizations of East Liverpool, to buy nothing but Union Label goods, in preference to all others. And why not? If we ask fair wages for our labor, why should we buy goods made at unfair wages by others?

The Union Label in every industry is a guarantee of fair wages, decent working hours, and union labor employed.

PATRONIZE UNION CLERKS.

All members of the R. C. N. P. A. can show this card. Ask for it when making your purchases. Endorsed by the A. F. of L.

ONE-THIRD ACTUAL SIZE. COLOR IS CHANGED EACH QUARTER. Good only during months named in lower left hand corner and when properly signed, and STAMPED with the number of the Local.

The Journeymen Tailor's Label is to be found in the inside breast pocket of the coat, on the under side of the buckle strap of the vest, and on the waistband lining of the pants. It is printed in black ink on white linen.

UNION MADE HATS.

This Label is about an inch and a half square, and is printed on buff-colored paper. It is placed on every union made hat before it leaves the workman's hands. If a dealer takes a label from one hat and places it in another, or has any detached labels in his store, do not buy from him, as his labels may be counterfeit, and his hats may be the product of scab or non-union labor.

UNION MADE CLOTHES.

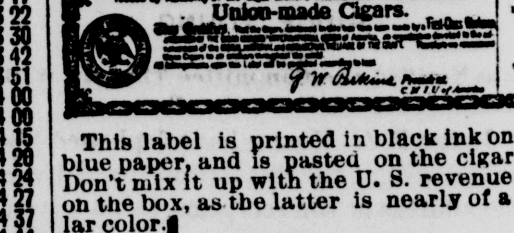

You will find the linen label attached by machine stitching to the inside breast pocket of the coat, on the inside of the buckle strap of the vest, and on the waistband lining of the pants.

BICYCLE LABEL.

BLUE LABEL CIGARS.

This label is printed in black ink on light blue paper, and is pasted on the cigar-box. Don't mix it up with the U. S. revenue label on the box, as the latter is nearly a similar color.

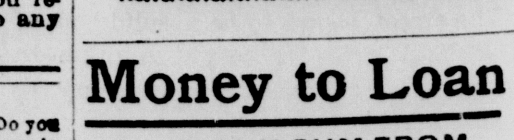

TOBACCO LABEL.

UNION BREAD AND CRACKERS.

AFTER WILD CAT MEN

Insurance Agents Must Locate
In Ohio

IF THEY WOULD DO BUSINESS

The Department Is After Them, and Proposes to Take the Cases to the United States Court—West Virginia Agents in Danger.

A proposition that has been bothering the insurance officials of Ohio has just been settled by an action in the United States court at Buffalo.

It seems that for several years past there has been going on in the state what is known as "wild cat" insurance work or "overhead writing."

All efforts of the state insurance department has been to no avail. Agents would come into Ohio from other states and not taking out a license to do business in the state they would write insurance and then leave immediately. The insurance department could not get hold of them to bring suit against them, and, in fact, could not even find who they had on their list. The difficulties that confront them were these: Those who had taken out policies in the companies would not disclose their names or places of business, as it might make them lose the amount of money they had put in. Those who had refused to buy insurance had nothing to tell. Thus the state was at a loss to know what to do. Their only method of procedure, it would seem, would be to bring suit against the agents who had been doing what the department regards as illegal business.

The means taken by other states to get hold of these agents has been very gratifying to all of those connected with insurance in this state. The case in Buffalo is one where the United States authorities have taken hold of the agents and had them brought before the United States district court on a charge of illegal use of the mails. They hold that while soliciting insurance is not an illegal business, still when their company has not a station in this territory, they say that the use of the mails for them to accomplish what they could not by personal subscription is an illegal use of the mail.

In the case in Buffalo, agents have been soliciting business in this state and Deputy Commissioner of Insurance Stemmons has been called there to testify. Captain Stemmons knows little or nothing about the case, still he does know that agents have come from West Virginia and have solicited insurance in this state. He will be asked to show, however, that they have no right to do business in this state, as they have no license here.

The commissioner of insurance says with this as a cue he will begin proceedings against those who are writing "wild-cat" insurance in this state at once. He has his eye on several companies who have been doing this sort of work for a good while. The department has been after them but have never been able to corner them in any way. It is thought that they will have a number of cases in the United States court very shortly and some will be from this part of Ohio.

Lesson For the Week Beginning Sept. 25.

Comment by Rev. W. J. Yates, A. M.

Topic, The Barren Fig Tree.

A fruit tree that bears no fruit is of little value. It must soon go to the wood pile and stove. We don't grow fruit trees for ornament nor for timber, but for fruit. Men are profitable only as they show intelligent integrity.

Why are so many worthless folks permitted to live? How pleasant this world would be if only the good were permitted to live! But this is not that kind of a world. It never was and never will be. Barren fig trees have appeared on all its hillsides and valleys. They still grow. The more barren of righteous fruit the more flourishing some people seem to be. Why doesn't God cut them down? Wealth, beauty, wit, genius, gracefulness, learning, all the natural advantages of soil and sunshine, seem to be theirs, but they produce little for the world's hunger. We look to them in vain in our famine. How often we grieve over them! How much good they might do if they would! We are attracted toward them by all they are. We cannot commend them nor defend them because of what they are not.

God doesn't hasten to remove them. We have no right to do so. What can be done? Try a little digging and cultivation. Put some time and effort into it. Study their nature, their surroundings, their troubles and hindrances. See what is the cause of the barrenness and study how best to remedy it. If it is a removable cause, take it away. Use tact. Many a person who has been morally and spiritually useless in the world needs only a little special care and cultivation to become perennially fruitful of all Christian graces.

This presence of barren trees in the Lord's orchard is a source of helplessness. It is a warning to those who do bear fruit that they may need pruning and care lest they fall into the same condition. It is also helpful in keeping ever in remembrance the real value of life as fruitage and not mere foliage. It gives opportunity for the exercise of Christian care and affectionate assistance, blessing the one rescued and more deeply benefiting the one who gives the help.

Let them grow, Master, and give us grace and strength to dig a little more about them.

Rev. M. C. B. Mason, D. D.

The great numbers of colored people in the membership of the Methodist Episcopal church have led many to desire a colored bishop and many others to believe it would be wise to have such a one. Whether there ever will be such in this church is uncertain, but it is clear that there is no prejudice on account of color which prevents the church advancing to any office one who is fitted to occupy it efficiently. The election of Dr. Mason by the last general conference as one of the secretaries of the Freedmen's Aid and Southern Education society was gratifying to the church at large. He is of the negro race and manifests no disposition to apologize for the fact. He is every inch a man, great hearted, strong of body and mind, cultured and devoted. In public speech he is full of wit of the brightest kind, logical, polished, forceful and magnetic. He is a true orator of the best style. He moves people to do the right. No man appears before the annual conferences who is more cordially welcomed and more gladly heard than this "brother in black." "Long may his bow abide in strength!"

Hadn't Heard of the War.

A party of fishermen found a man and his family up the Tennessee river who had never heard of the war with Spain. The man wouldn't believe it until a newspaper with reports from the battlefields was produced and read. The poorly informed native said his lack of information was due to the fact that he hadn't "bin over to town fer purty nigh a year."—Louisville Post.

Too High an Estimate.

Think of it, the Spanish functionaries at Havana demanded that Clara Barton pay $60,000 in revenue taxes before being permitted to land Red Cross provisions to feed Havana's starving people! Clearly we have not been mistaken in our estimate of Spanish character.—Boston Journal.

The Journeymen Tailor's Label is to be found in the inside breast pocket of the coat, on the under side of the buckle strap of the vest, and on the waistband lining of the pants. It is printed in black ink on white linen.

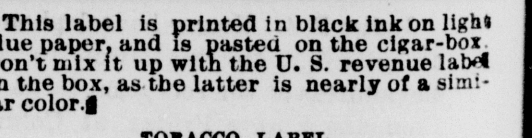

UNION MADE CLOTHES. This Label is about an inch and a half square, and is printed on buff-colored paper. It is placed on every union-made hat before it leaves the workman's hands. If a dealer takes a label from one hat and places it in another, or has any detached labels in his store, do not buy from him, as his labels may be the product of scab or non-union labor.

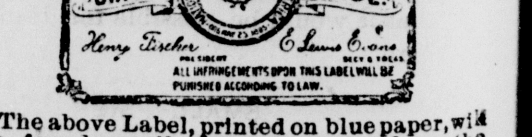

You will find the linen label attached by machine stitching to the inside breast pocket of the coat, on the inside of the buckle strap of the vest, and on the waistband lining of the pants.

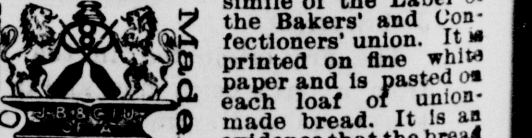

"Do unto others as ye would that others should do unto you." You will endorse the "Golden Rule" by buying and riding bicycles bearing this Label. The colors are as follows: The Union shield is in red, white and blue, on a background of pea green, bordered by gold. The Label will be placed on the upper front side of the tube that receives the seat post.

This label is printed in black ink on light blue paper, and is pasted on the cigar-box. Don't mix it up with the U. S. revenue label on the box, as the latter is nearly of a similar color.

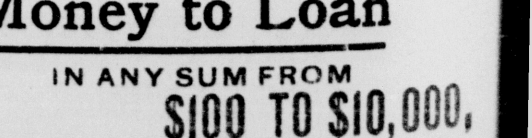

The above Label, printed on blue paper, will be found on all plug tobacco and on the wrappers of chewing tobacco manufactured in union tobacco factories.

This is a full size facsimile of the Label of the Bakers' and Confectioners' Union. It is printed on fine white paper and is pasted on each loaf of union-made bread. It is evidence that the bread is made under fair and wholesome conditions.

All Shaw Has Finished the Season With Syracuse and May Be Signed Again—A Few Notes of Prominent Local Players
and Games That Are Over.

George Carey, in the last two games
he played with Minneapolis this season, out of nine times at bat made three hits.
In fielding he accepted 26 chances without an error. His work since joining the Minneapolis club has been first class in every respect, and there is but little doubt that he will be re-signed for next season unless he again breaks into the National league.

All Shaw has finished the season with Syracuse and will return to his home in Uhrichville in the near future. He played a good game with the Stars, and will undoubtedly be signed if he is not drafted by some of the league teams, and that seems highly improbable.

Bobby Cargo played a great game at short this season for the Canandaigua club, the champions of the New York league.

A number of local ball players are today playing with the New Cumberland club in their final game with Toronto.

The Wellsville club is claiming the championship of the county and valley.
The numerous other teams in the county and valley are trying to figure out upon what they base their claims unless it is by defeating a number of second rate teams. They have been defeated by Toronto and have not met the Liverpool, Salem or New Cumberland clubs, which would mean three defeats for them.

A number of the professional ball players will be home in the near future and it is proposed to arrange a series of games with teams in this vicinity.

The football eleven are practicing each evening, and the club will undoubtedly be stronger than ever.

INSTANTANEOUS RELIEF FROM ASTHMA

Has Been Afforded Many Sufferers In East
Liverpool.

If there was doubt in the mind of any sufferer from asthma in this city as to truth of the claims made for Doctor Schiffmann's Asthma cure, that doubt no longer remains, providing he was among those who called at W. O.
Hamilton's drug store, last Thursday and obtained a free sample package. A great number who have already tried the same declare in positive terms that the relief was immediate; that the wretched spasms were checked; that free expectoration was induced; that a reclining position was readily assumed and gratefully maintained; that the sleep which followed was restful and unbroken, and that the morning brought a clear head and a feeling of delighted thankfulness which no words are too strong to describe.

Abundant voluntary testimonials prove that Doctor Schiffmann's Asthma cure not only gives instant relief in the worst cases, but has positively cured thousands who were considered incurable. The remedy is now sold by all druggists in packages at 50c and $1, thus bringing it within the reach of all.
Should any reader be unable to obtain it of his druggist, it will be sent, postpaid, by sending to Dr. R. Schiffmann,

QUEEN'S MEN TRICKED.

Why Sir Wilfrid Laurier Sent the
"Defense Committee" Fishing.

An amusing and rather significant incident occurred at Quebec at the time of the organization of the joint high commission which has been carefully concealed by the Dominion authorities.
On the day when the commissioners of the United States and Canada met for the first time to exchange compliments and cordiality and to prepare for the permanent removal of all causes of irritation there appeared at Quebec a distinguished party of military men from England—a major general, a colonel of engineers and a captain of the royal navy—sent over by her majesty's government to inspect the defenses upon the American border and report how they might be extended and strengthened.
Their arrival was unexpected, at least by the civil authorities, but fortunately Sir Wilfrid Laurier, prime minister of Canada, heard of it promptly and in time to prevent the disclosure of their mission.

He met the "defense committee," as it is called, in the members' rooms and explained how inopportune was their arrival just at the moment when delegates from the United States were gathering to arrange for perpetual peace and begged them to clear out before any one discovered their business. They resented such an unceremonious dismissal as a reflection upon their dignity and showed their instructions, but Sir Wilfrid told them that he didn't care a tinker's rap about their dignity or their instructions; there were no fortifications upon the American border for them to inspect, and the Canadian government did not propose to have any, and they might go home and report to the military authorities in London that all the money in the world could not fortify the Canadian frontier against an invasion from the United States. The committee then explained that they could not return to England without doing something or going somewhere, so Sir Wilfrid Laurier borrowed a car and some guns and fishing tackle from Sir William Van Horne and sent them over to inspect the defenses of the Rocky mountains, with an injunction to keep away from Quebec and to conceal their mission.—William E. Curtis in Chicago Record.

THE FASHODA AFFAIR.

French Occupation of the City May Lead to Trouble With England.

The Fashoda question between England and France has entered upon a very grave stage. All the elements of rupture are provided by the situation.
There is no mistaking the stern determination of the English people that Fashoda shall not belong to France.
The French press, on the other hand, notably the semiofficial Temps, has been steadily stiffening in its resolve to hold on to Major Marchand's prize.
News of the result of General Kitchener's advance to Fashoda is therefore awaited with the keenest anxiety.

It has been stated in London that General Kitchener started for Fashoda without fresh instructions from his government. The New York World correspondent can state positively on official authority that this is not so. He asked for and received by telegraph fresh instructions in view of the discovery that Major Marchand had forestalled him on the upper Nile. This fact renders the situation all the more serious if he adopts hostile measures against the French explorers, as he will be acting under express authority from the British government. What his instructions are the foreign office in London declined to disclose.

The truth is that Lord Salisbury dares not surrender Fashoda. It is a fact patent to any competent observer that the mood of the English people at this moment is strongly warlike. This is due in part to profound confidence in the British fleet, now in condition to cope with any possible combination, and partly to exasperation at the feeling created abroad by Salisbury's timid policy that England won't fight for anything nowadays. In their present temper the English people will tolerate no concession, graceful or otherwise, in relation to Fashoda. Even entering upon any dallying negotiations would ruin the government. On the other hand, France is not a country to receive an affront with equanimity, so that the tension of feeling here until this Fashoda affair is settled can be appreciated.

Child Pleads For a Souvenir.

Up in the Waldorf-Astoria, in New York, a little girl, about 6 years old, came dancing up to a big rough rider standing at the entrance to the cafe and exclaimed, "Oh, please, dear soldier, give me a button for keepsakes." The man in the khaki uniform leaned over and kissed the child tenderly on the cheek.

"I've got one just like you," he said,
and then, pulling out his sheathknife,
he cut two buttons from his coat
"Here, my dear," he said, "take this;
there." "Oh, thank you, dear soldier," lispd the little one, and she ran off bearing the two souvenirs above her flaxen head.—New York Press.

Strange as it may seem, the origin of the miter is to be found in Acts ii, 3,
"And there appeared unto them cloven tongues like as of fire, and it sat upon each of them." The miter is supposed to be a representation of these cloven tongues.

HORRID REGAL RITE.

THREE GRAVES.

Her Remains Not to Rest in the Capuchin Vault in Their Entirety.
The Intestines and Heart to Be Preserved in Different Churches.

The remains of the murdered Empress Elizabeth roached Vienna the other day, and there is every reason to believe that, in spite of the very little sympathy that existed between the people of this gay metropolis and herself during her lifetime, the mourning of the Viennese will be sincere and heartfelt.

The unpopularity of the kaiserin at Vienna was due to her aversion to all those state ceremonies and public functions of which the Austrians are so fond. The people seemed to think that they had a right to exact that she should constitute herself a part and parcel of the imperial show, and they resented her failure to comply with their wishes.
She, on the other hand, never either forgot or forgave the coldness and lack of cordiality which had marked her reception by the people as well as by the nobility of the kaiserstadt when first she came to Austria as a 16-year-old bride.

And, besides that, she detested being stared at, and it was impossible for her to show herself anywhere at Vienna without being stared at not only in an ordinary fashion, but even through big fieldglasses and telescopes, a horrible ordeal for a woman suffering from nerves so high strung as hers. In Hungary it was quite different. There she was never mobbed, the people possessing too keen a sense of their native dignity to run after her and stare at her in the rude way of the Viennese. That is why she loved Hungary so.

The remains of the empress will within the next few days, therefore, be laid in the vaults of that old Capuchin church at Vienna where all the members of the imperial house of Hapsburg since the days of Emperor Matthias repose. There are nearly 1,400 coffins in these vaults, the most notable objects being the enormous sarcophagus which Empress Maria Theresa caused to be made for her beloved husband, herself and her children. According to an old custom, members of the imperial family must actually lie in wood, though the outer coffin may be of metal. The caskets of the emperors and empresses and of their children are covered with black velvet and gold, while those of the collateral archdukes and archduchesses are covered with red velvet and silver.

Emperor Joseph II ordered that the outer coffins from his reign onward should be plain copper shells, with a cross and an inscription on the lid, and his own is perfectly plain. The first return to ornamentation was made in 1872 for the coffin of Archduchess

Sophia, the emperor's mother. Formerly the males of the imperial family were laid on the gospel side crypt and the female on the epistle side. But this rule was broken through because Empress Eleonora Magdalena wished to be laid beside her husband. Since 1844 the coffins are grouped according to families.
Pope Pius VI visited these vaults in 1782. Napoleon I likewise visited them and was so much impressed by the gloomy scene that he is said to have exclaimed, "Vanitas vanitatum, omnia vanitas—hors la foree."

In accordance with the traditions and regulations governing the obsequies of the members of the imperial house, the corps of the empress will not be laid to rest in the Capuchin vault in its entirety. Thus her intestines will be placed in a gold and crystal receptacle and conveyed with much religious pomp and courtly ceremony to the Cathedral of St. Stephen, there to be preserved along with the entrails of more than a thousand other members of the house of Hapsburg in the niches of a great shrine constructed for the purpose. Her majesty's heart—the only Hapsburg heart that has ever been pierced by the knife of an assassin—will in the same way be placed in a beautifully chased golden urn and conveyed in a similar manner to the Church of the Augustines, scarcely a stone's throw away.

The only member of the house of Hapsburg who is on record as having been laid whole in his tomb is Archduke Charles Louis, brother of the emperor, who, fervently believing in the resurrection of the body, expressed his objections to this potting and dismem-bering process of his remains and thought it uncanny that his heart and his entrails should each have to go hunting through the city for his body on the day of judgment.

Let me add that most of the reigning houses of the continent of Europe are accustomed to entomb their members, so to speak, in sections precisely as is the case with the sovereign family of Hapsburg.—Marquise de Fontenoy in New York Journal.

LATTER DAY SAINTS.

THEIR MISSION AS PRESIDENT SNOW SEES THEM.

He Believes in Polygamy, but Thinks the Law Should Be Obeyed—No Polygamy Now Existing—Revelation That Appointed Him.

Lorenzo Snow, the new president of the Mormon church, who succeeded the late Wilford Woodruff, was seen at the church offices in Salt Lake the other day by a representative of the New York World, to whom President Snow gave the following statement:

"I believe in the revelation given to Joseph Smith, the prophet, on celestial marriage—that is, a marriage for eternity—and that under certain conditions Latter Day Saints would be doing no moral or religious wrong in practicing plural marriage under divine sanction and religious regulations. But I do not think it would be right to break the laws of the land against that practice. Polygamy—that is, marrying plural wives—ceased among the Latter Day Saints on the issuance of President Woodruff's manifesto Oct. 6, 1890, and his inhibition will not be changed by me.

"A revelation given March 28, 1885, clearly defines the relationship the 12 apostles bear to the first presidency. When a vacancy occurred in the presiding council, such as has occurred by the death of President Woodruff, the 12 apostles became the presiding council of churches, and it has been the rule for the president of that body, if he be the senior apostle by ordination, to succeed to the presidency when the council of apostles decides that the first presidency should be reorganized. He, with two counselors that he may select, is then presented to the body of churches in general conference. If accepted by the churches, they become the first presidency thereof. In this manner I have been selected as president of the churches.

"The mission of the Latter Day Saints is to preach the gospel of Jesus Christ as made known by divine revelation to all worlds, to gather the saints and to prepare for the advent of our Saviour, who will then become King of kings and Lord of lords. They will become a great and powerful body of religious worshippers. They will sustain the constitution and laws and institutions of the United States and be the champions of liberty and of that constitution when its integrity shall be threatened. Their future will comprehend the fulfillment of the predictions of the prophets of God concerning the re-adoption of the earth and its inhabitants.

"Polygamy does not exist in Utah either secretly or openly. It is forbidden by the church. There have been no polygamous marriages to my knowledge since the issuance of the manifesto against them. There are men who married plural wives previous to that time, who now care for them and regard them sacredly as their wives for all eternity, being married to them with that contract.

"They have respect for the law, yet consider it their duty to provide for them and for their children. But polygamy, which has a definite signification in law, has ceased entirely in this state so far as Latter Day Saints are concerned. It will not be expected by any reasonable persons that the plural family relations existing when polygamous marriages ceased by action of law and the inhibition of the church would be at once abolished.

"The understanding among all parties was that the rigid enforcement of proceedings against such parties would be discontinued, and that men in the condition described should not be molested in the proper protection of their families or in providing for their needs.

"The stories that circulated concerning social conditions in this state are either entirely untrue or grossly exaggerated. It must be clear to reflecting minds that, polygamous marriages being no longer solemnized, the conditions growing out of those contracted in the past must soon come to an end."

AN AERONAUT'S TRIUMPH.

Second Highest Balloon Ascension on Record Made in England.

Next to the highest balloon ascension on record was made at London the other afternoon from the Crystal palace, Sydenham, by Stanley Spencer, the aeronaut, and Dr. Berson. The balloon, which was inflated with pure hydrogen and has a capacity of 56,500 cubic feet, attained an altitude of 27,500 feet.

At a height of 25,000 feet the air was so rarefied that the occupants of the car were compelled to breathe compressed oxygen by tubes. The temperature was 61 degrees below the freezing point. The atmosphere was clear and the coast distinctly visible. The balloon finally descended near Romford, in Essex.—New York Tribune.

Hanging Paper by Machine.

A new paper hanging machine is provided with a rod on which the roll of paper is placed. There is also a paste receptacle at the back, which applies the paste automatically as the paper is unrolled. After the end of the paper is once set at the bottom of the wall and the machine started on the rise, an elastic roller follows on the outside, pressing the automatically pasted paper firmly to the wall. When the wall paper has reached the top, the workman pulls a cord, and the paper is neatly clipped off at the level at which it stops. —San Francisco Chronicle.

MONEY MARKETS' MASTER.

Dun's Review Says This Country Is Becoming That In the Old World. Condition of Trade.

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade, issued today, said in part: "Europe will have to consider possible American demands for money much more anxiously in the future. Doubtless there has been for many years a feeling that the new continent could be put off with promises. But the control of this country over money markets in the old world is coming to be of that of amaster. Our banks lend over there heavily when it is the most convenient market for them, but they draw on Europe whenever they want money and no longer have occasion to limit their drafts."

The review stated that the prices of wheat have risen sharply, about 4 cents for the week. The price of corn slightly advanced. Exports are larger than last year for both grains.

"The reports from different cities disclose a wonderful activity at the chief centers of western trade, the dispatches from Chicago, St. Paul and St. Louis being especially significant.

"Even in eastern markets it is commonly said that no larger trade has ever been known unless in 1892.

"The iron and steel trade expands with a rapidity which throws into the shade all expectations, with a steel famine in Germany and Great Britain in the market for 10,000 tons plates, and the American works are crowded for months ahead. New orders at Chicago cover 30,000 tons tin plate bars besides 7,000 tons sold at Philadelphia. Rails are in such demand that the makers are to meet with expectation of advancing prices, some sales having been made from Chicago below agreed quotations for delivery at the far west.

"Coke production increases the output at Connellsville for the week having been 140,658 tons, against 137,171 for the previous week.

"Tin plates are selling at $2.82½ for full weight Bessemer.

"There is little disposition to secure trade in wool by concessions and sales for three weeks have been only 10,078,700 pounds, against 49,451,400 for the same weeks last year and 23,463,700 in 1892.

"Failures for the week have been 173 in the United States against 209 last year, and 16 in Canada against 28 last year.

TYPHOID PATIENTS.

That Number Taken From Camp Meade to Philadelphia—Others to Go to Reading.

CAMP MEADE, MIDDLETOWN, Pa., Sept. 24.—Seventy-four typhoid fever patients were sent to Philadelphia to St. Agnes' hospital and 39 others are intended to be sent today to Reading hospitals. The sick were nearly all from the Two Hundred and Third New York, Fifteenth Minnesota and Thirty-fifth Michigan regiments. Chief Surgeon Girard furnished the hospital with descriptive lists, giving the rank, company, place where the soldier was enlisted, name of nearest relative and the soldier's religion. Corporal William Moore, Company K, Third New York, died Thursday night of typhoid fever in the Red Cross hospital. The body was taken to Hornellsville, N. Y., by the soldier's father.

The new wards of the Red Cross hospital have been finished and there is now room for 80 patients. A call in Philadelphia for the emergency nurses of the Red Cross has been answered by a dozen women, and they have been put to work, increasing the number of nurses.

Since the consolidation of the Red Cross hospital and the assumption of the cost of medicines and supplies by the government, Major Jabez Jackson of the Third Missouri will have supervision of both hospitals.

There are 500 Jewish soldiers at Camp Meade and among them 24 officers, who will be granted leave to attend service in Ohav Sholem synagogue, this city, on the Day of Atonement, which falls this year on Monday.

NO ONE SAW MISS GILL.

Detective at Bridgeport, Conn., Recommended Release of Charles Plumb.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Sept. 24.—Detective Cronan returned to headquarters yesterday afternoon from Stratford. He found no one who had seen Miss Gill in that place. The detective also looked into the career of Charles A. Plumb and learned enough to cause him to recommend the release of Plumb as a witness. Attorney Lynch of counsel for the defense of Walter Foster, said yesterday: "They will never convict him."

Harry Guilford said yesterday, regarding his visit to his mother's house at the time of his arrest, that he came from New Haven to get mail.

TWO MORE ARRESTS.

Prominent Young Men Suspected of the Bridgeport Murder.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Sept. 24.—Harry Oxley and Howard Guernsey were arrested yesterday at Southington in connection with the Gill case. They were brought here last night. They are from prominent families. Guernsey is said to have confessed, giving strong evidence against Oxley, who is said to have paid Dr. Guilford money, express receipt for part of which having been found. Dr. Guilford's landress and her daughter were also arrested.

CHRONICLED FIVE DEATHS.

Indications Were That the Sickness Among General Lawton's Troops Was Decreasing.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—In his report of the health conditions of the American troops at Santiago, made to the war department last night, General Lawton chronicled the death of five men. The indications are that the sickness among the troops is decreasing, although 1,002 of the men were still reported ill. The deaths given were:

John Killgallon, Private, Company A, Ninth infantry, typhoid fever, Sept. 21; William H. Brigham, private, Company K, Second United States volunteer infantry, acute gastro enteric congestion, Sept. 21; Robert Corbin, private, Company H, Fifth infantry, typhoid fever, Sept. 21; Isaac Saltus, civilian packer, acute dysentery, Sept. 22; John Thomas, private, Company M, Ninth United States volunteer infantry, typhoid fever, Sept. 22.

DREYFUS SENSATION.

Wife of Deputy Palmer Shot a Newspaper Man—Dreyfus Letter Started the Trouble.

PARIS, Sept. 24.—Madame Paulmier, wife of M. Charles Ernest Paulmier, member of the chamber of deputies from the department of Calvados, yesterday entered the offices of La Lanterne and fired twice with a revolver, wounding M. Olivier, who she mistook for M. Millerand.

Madame Paulmier, when taken into custody, coolly announced: "I wished to kill M. Millerand."

She explained that La Lanterne had slandered herself and her husband because her husband had written a letter to General Chanoinne, the minister of war, with reference to putting a stop to the attacks upon the army provoked by the Dreyfus affair.

The military authorities have accomplished their plan of stifling M. Picquart by placing him au secret.

A TRAIN HELD UP.

Stopped by Robbers Near Kansas City and Express Car Dynamited.

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 24.—The Colorado and Coffeyville, express train, on the Missouri Pacific railroad, which left Kansas City about 9:15 o'clock last night, was held up by robbers near Leeds, a suburban station, about six miles out from the Union depot. The locomotive and baggage car were detached from the train and taken down the track toward Dodson, after which the robbers shattered the Pacific Express company's car with dynamite.

ONE CHARGE AGAINST QUAY.

Postal Representative to Investigate the Allegation That He Sold Postoffices.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—The postal officials have directed one of their representatives to conduct an inquiry into the charges made recently in a political speech that Senator Quay had sold postoffices in Lehigh county, Pa.

Second Assistant Postmaster General Shallenberger says the official records show no evidence of irregularity in the appointment of postmasters in the county referred to. The inquiry is made at the request of Senator Quay.

Sherman Abandoned the Plans.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Ex-Secretary Sherman has so far recovered from his illness that his physician, Dr. Frank Hyatt, has left the city for a few days. On his advice Mr. Sherman has abandoned his speechmaking plans in Ohio.

LATTER DAY SAINTS.

THEIR MISSION AS PRESIDENT SNOW SEES THEM.

He Believes in Polygamy, but Thinks the Law Should Be Obeyed—No Polygamy Now Existing—Revelation That Appointed Him.

The sick were nearly all from the Two Hundred and Third New York, Fifteenth Minnesota and Thirty-fifth Michigan regiments. Chief Surgeon Girard furnished the hospital with descriptive lists, giving the rank, company, place where the soldier was enlisted, name of nearest relative and the soldier's religion. Corporal William Moore, Company K, Third New York, died Thursday night of typhoid fever in the Red Cross hospital. The body was taken to Hornellsville, N. Y., by the soldier's father.

The new wards of the Red Cross hospital have been finished and there is now room for 80 patients. A call in Philadelphia for the emergency nurses of the Red Cross has been answered by a dozen women, and they have been put to work, increasing the number of nurses.

Since the consolidation of the Red Cross hospital and the assumption of the cost of medicines and supplies by the government, Major Jabez Jackson of the Third Missouri will have supervision of both hospitals.

There are 500 Jewish soldiers at Camp Meade and among them 24 officers, who will be granted leave to attend service in Ohev Sholem synagogue, this city, on the Day of Atonement, which falls this year on Monday.

NO ONE SAW MISS GILL.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Sept. 24.—Detective Cronan returned to headquarters yesterday afternoon from Stratford. He found no one who had seen Miss Gill in that place. The detective also looked into the career of Charles A. Plumb and learned enough to cause him to recommend the release of Plumb as a witness. Attorney Lynch of counsel for the defense of Walter Foster, said yesterday: "They will never convict him."

Harry Guilford said yesterday, regarding his visit to his mother's house at the time of his arrest, that he came from New Haven to get mail.

TWO MORE ARRESTS.

Prominent Young Men Suspected of the Bridgeport Murder.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Sept. 24.—Harry Oxley and Howard Guernsey were arrested yesterday at Southampton in connection with the Gill case. They were brought here last night. They are from prominent families. Guernsey is said to have confessed, giving strong evidence against Oxley, who is said to have paid Dr. Guilford money, express receipt for part of which having been found. Dr. Guilford's laundress and her daughter were also arrested.

CHRONICLED FIVE DEATHS.

Indications Were That the Sickness Among General Lawton's Troops Was Decreasing.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—In his report of the health conditions of the American troops at Santiago, made to the war department last night, General Lawton chronicled the death of five men. The indications are that the sickness among the troops is decreasing, although 1,002 of the men were still reported ill. The deaths given were:

John Killgallon, Private, Company A, Ninth infantry, typhoid fever, Sept. 21; William H. Brigham, private, Company K, Second United States volunteer infantry, acute gastro enteric congestion, Sept. 21; Robert Corbin, private, Company H, Fifth infantry, typhoid fever, Sept. 21; Isaac Saltus, civilian packer, acute dysentery, Sept. 23; John Thomas, private, Company M, Ninth United States volunteer infantry, typhoid fever, Sept. 23.

DREYFUS SENSATION.

PARIS, Sept. 24.—Madame Paulmier, wife of M. Charles Ernest Paulmier, member of the chamber of deputies from the department of Calvados, yesterday entered the offices of La Lanterne and fired twice with a revolver, wounding M. Olivier, who she mistook for M. Millerand.

Madame Paulmier, when taken into custody, coolly announced: "I wished to kill M. Millerand."

She explained that La Lanterne had slandered herself and her husband because her husband had written a letter to General Chanoinne, the minister of war, with reference to putting a stop to the attacks upon the army provoked by the Dreyfus affair.

The military authorities have accomplished their plan of stifling M. Fiquart by placing him au secret.

A TRAIN HELD UP.

Stopped by Robbers Near Kansas City and Express Car Dynamited.

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 24.—The Colorado and Coffeyville, express train, on the Missouri Pacific railroad, which left Kansas City about 9:15 o'clock last night, was held up by robbers near Leeds, a suburban station, about six miles out from the Union depot. The locomotive and baggage car were detached from the train and taken down the track toward Dodson, after which the robbers shattered the Pacific Express company's car with dynamite.

ONE CHARGE AGAINST QUAY.

Postal Representative to Investigate the Allegation That He Sold Postoffices.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—The postal officials have directed one of their representatives to conduct an inquiry into the charges made recently in a political speech that Senator Quay had sold postoffices in Lehigh county, Pa.

Second Assistant Postmaster General Shallenberger says the official records show no evidence of irregularity in the appointment of postmasters in the county referred to. The inquiry is made at the request of Senator Quay.

Sherman Abandoned the Plans.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Ex-Secretary Sherman has so far recovered from his illness that his physician, Dr. Frank Hyatt, has left the city for a few days. On his advice Mr. Sherman has abandoned his speechmaking plans in Ohio.

EVENING NEWS REVIEW.

14TH YEAR. NO. 91.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., SATURDAY, SEPT. 24, 1898.

EIGHT WERE KILLED.

Victims of the Mine Explosion Near Brownsville, Pa.

THREE WERE REPORTED INJURED.

Heroic Preacher Led a Number of Rescuers—Some of Men Escaped Through an Abandoned Entry—Mine Officials Mum as to Cause.

BROWNVILLE, Pa., Sept. 24.—The last of the explorers in the Empire mine, about one mile from here, where the fatal explosion occurred yesterday morning, came out last night and announced the dead and living, so far as they knew, were all out. The dead are: John Haistoun, miner, aged 35 years, negro; leaves a wife and two children. Salem Haistoun, miner, aged 25 years; single.

Robert Davidson, miner, aged 45 years, white; has no family. John Bennett, driver, aged 22 years; single.

William Pritchard, miner, aged 50 years; has wife and seven children. Henry Hagar, driver, aged 17 years. John Cartwright, miner, aged 50 years; is married, but had no children. James Hall, miner, aged 27 years; unmarried.

The following were injured: George Baker, miner, burned about the face and breast; John Baker, slightly burned; Samuel McIntyre, cut on the head by a fall of slate.

As near as can be learned there were about 70 men in the mine, about 20 of whom were at work in the immediate vicinity of the disaster.

It was announced that some of the men had come out of the mine through an abandoned entry nearly three miles distant.

Crowds of men, women and children were about the main entrance, some of them weeping.

Among the heroes of the day was Rev. James Law, pastor of the First M. E. church. He was at one time a miner. On hearing of the disaster he went directly to the mine. Stripping himself to the waist and seizing a miner's lamp he said "come on." More came than were necessary.

Fire Boss Farrar, Pit Boss Broderick and Superintendent Simpson, also a member of the firm, would not talk of the cause.

Coroner P. F. Smith of Uniontown arrived here last night. He empanelled a jury at once to hold an inquest this morning. He said a searching investigation would be made. The mine has been in operation for more than 35 years.

It is estimated that an area of several cubic miles has been taken out. At present the mine is being operated by the Empire Coal company. The firm consists of John D. Simpson, C. S. Van Horn, William and Daniel Livingstone and Mrs. M. D. Hogg. They have operated it for nearly two years, succeeding Snowden, Simpson and Hall.

Six months ago there was trouble at the mine. John Armstrong was fire boss and Aquila Underwood was pit boss. On moving the fire boss put up a danger signal at the entry leading to the room, and told the men not to enter the mine, as there was too much gas. Pit Boss Underwood disagreed with him, and the district mine inspector was called, who also said there was gas in the mine. As a result of the disagreement both bosses were discharged.

The men refused to go into the mine. Armstrong had been employed in the mine for six years previous to the difficulty. Farrar and Broderick, the present fire and pit bosses, are strangers here, having been employed only several days ago. They came here from the Lee shaft in the coke region. The mine shut down July 9, 1898, and resumed work last Saturday.

WHAT BRYAN WANTS.

Asked That the Nebraska Quota Be Reduced to Its Proportion.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Col. Bryan Governor Holcomb and Congressman Stark again visited the war department yesterday and had a conference with Adjutant General Corbin, after which they went to the White House for another conference with the president. Upon leaving the White House Governor Holcomb said that the only request they had made is to have a number of the enlisted men mustered out to reduce the Nebraska quota, which he said was out of proportion.

The governor stated that no representations had been made concerning the attitude of Colonel Bryan personally and he could not say whether the colonel would seek to resign or to secure a furlough.

COLUMBUS' REMAINS.

Blanco Appointed a Commission to Have Them Shipped to Spain.

HAVANA, Sept. 24.—Captain General Blanco, in view of the government's decision to transfer the remains of Columbus to Spain, has issued an order saying in part that the monument containing the remains shall be removed from its mounting, leaving as it now is the base upon which it rests, and it shall be properly packed for shipment. A commission, presided over by the captain general, is appointed to have charge of the matter. The finance department will appropriate $3,000 to defray the expenses of packing and shipping the monument.

MISS DAVIS' FUNERAL.

Simple Ceremony in the Church—Procession to the Cemetery Nearly a Mile in Length.

RICHMOND, Sept. 24.—At the funeral services in St. Paul's church yesterday, over the remains of Miss Winnie Davis, Rev. Dr. Carmichael announced the first hymn, "How Firm a Foundation," which was a favorite of General Robert E. Lee's. After the hymn had been sung Rev. Dr. Hoge read a psalm for the day and "Nearer My God to Thee" was sung. Dr. Carmichael read the lesson. "Art Thou Weary" was then sung and at its close the veterans moved out with the casket. Mrs. Davis was prostrated, and it was several minutes before the grief-stricken mother could rise.

The procession was headed by the marshal and his staff, General Alonzo Philipps and staff. Then came six companies of state troops and the Richmond Howitzers. Then came the veterans' organizations headed by the First regiment band. Amid the tolling of bells of many churches the procession proceeded to Hollywood cemetery, marching between dense lines of humanity the entire distance. The procession was nearly a mile in length, though the carriages were driven two abreast.

At the grave, after the casket had been placed on the supports, the face section was removed for a moment and Mrs. Davis and her daughter, Mrs. Hayes, kissed the deceased. Mrs. Davis sat in an armchair near the grave and Mrs. Hayes knelt by her side. The Centenary Methodist church choir sang "Sleep Thy Last Sleep." The committal prayers were read by Dr. Carmichael.

ENTERTAINED GARCIA.

Americans and Cubans Showed the Cuban General Honor on His Visit to Santiago.

SANTIAGO DE CUBA, Sept. 24.—General Calixto Garcia visited Santiago Thursday the first time since he left there in a bad temper, on July 17. At 9 o'clock in the morning General Wood, with a portion of General Lawton's staff and several American officers, met General Garcia outside the city limits and escorted him into the town. Garcia was accompanied by his staff and by his son, Colonel Calixto Garcia, by many Cuban officers who have recently come to Santiago and by 200 Cuban cavalry. The streets through which the party passed were thronged with cheering people. He was met at the door by General Lawton and an informal reception by the American officers was held in the audience room. At night another reception was tendered General Garcia at the San Carlos club.

In the course of a speech, General Garcia expressed gratitude to the United States.

SPANISH ACT IN GOOD FAITH.

Everything Regarding Evacuation of Porto Rico Progressing Rapidly.

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, Sept. 24.—Everything regarding the evacuation of the island of Porto Rico by the Spanish troops is proceeding satisfactorily. The Spaniards are acting in perfect good faith and are turning over everything as they quit the various towns.

Preparations are being made for an elaborate and impressive ceremony when the American flag is raised over San Juan.

United States Consul Hanna strongly advises all fortunehunters to remain at home until the Americans are in complete control.

A CRIMINAL BLUNDER.

Patients Sent to Depot Long Before a Train Was to Leave, at Camp Meade.

CAMP MEADE, MIDDLETOWN, Pa., Sept. 24.—Twenty-four patients were taken from Red Cross hospitals last evening to Camp Meade station to be shipped to Reading. When the ambulances arrived at the depot it was learned that the next train would not leave for three hours and after a long wait the sick were returned to the hospital.

It is feared some of them will suffer from the exposure. General Graham is expected to order an investigation to fix the responsibility for the blunder.

TO SHELVE ROOSEVELT

Scheme Concocted by the Supporters of Black.

They Say He Swore to Washington as His Residence Three Different Times. Chairman Odell Not Scared, Neither Was Roosevelt—Denied at Washington.

ALBANY, Sept. 24.—Some of the supporters of Governor Black claimed last night that Colonel Roosevelt was ineligible for the nomination for governor. A delegation left yesterday afternoon for New York, it is alleged, to tell Senator Platt.

They claim that when sworn in as assistant secretary of the navy, when he accepted his commission in the army and also when he swore off an assessment for personal property at Oyster Bay, he declared himself a resident of Washington.

About midnight Chairman B. E. Odell, Jr., of the Republican state committee, was interviewed at the Fifth Avenue hotel.

"We knew all about the affidavits signed by Colonel Theodore Roosevelt," said Mr. Odell, "and we are not in the least worried. The best lawyers and the best judges in the city have had the subject under discussion all day, and they are unanimously of the opinion that there is nothing in these documents which will prevent the nomination and election of Colonel Roosevelt."

"In the first place, there is abundant evidence to the effect that Colonel Roosevelt's real residence was at Oyster Bay, L. I. We have many letters and documents to show that Mr. Roosevelt regarded Oyster Bay as his real home. And the courts have decided that a man's intent governs in the matter of residence. Mr. Roosevelt paid taxes at Oyster Bay, his house was there, his servants there and his family there a considerable part of the time."

"Under the laws of the state of New York assessments cannot be levied on personal property except where a man actually lives."

The World today printed what purported to be an affidavit from Mr. Roosevelt, swearing to Washington as his place of residence.

Colonel Theodore Roosevelt declared the story of his not being a resident of New York state was without foundation. He did not seem very much worried about the matter.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—When Col. Roosevelt was commissioned as lieutenant colonel and subsequently as colonel of the rough riders, he was credited to New York. In the war department's official publication of the list of volunteer officers, Colonel Roosevelt's residence is given as New York.

WON'T RECOGNIZE THEM.

The President Will Receive Aguinaldo's Representatives Only as Individuals, Not as Representatives.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—It is probable that if Agoncillo and Lopez, the two representatives of Aguinaldo, who arrived Thursday at San Francisco, call at the White House on their way through Washington to Paris, they will be admitted to see President McKinley, but only as individuals and not as representatives of any government.

Admiral Dewey, who was in command of all the United States forces during the most critical period, expressly cabled the secretary of the navy that he had entered into no formal agreement with Aguinaldo. If General Otis followed his instructions, and of that there can be no doubt, he also refrained from entering into any entangling agreements. As for Consul General Wildman, any undertaking he may have assumed with Aguinaldo must have been on his own personal and individual responsibility and would be without formal standing, inasmuch as he had not the express authorization from the state department.

TO ARM FILIPINOS.

San Francisco Paper Says Germans Will Send Guns and Drill Them to Fight the Americans.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24.—The Post yesterday published a sensational story to the effect that Germany is planning to send numerous trading vessels to the Philippine islands and will arm 150,000 Filipinos besides furnishing Krupp guns and artillery for field use. The islanders, The Post alleges, will be thoroughly drilled by German officers, and by February Aguinaldo will be prepared to make an onslaught on the American forces.

PROPOSE TO AID THEM.

American Cuban Commissioners Ask For Help For Needy Americans.

HAVANA, Sept. 24.—The American commissioners, in view of the great number of American citizens in the island who require aid, and having no

American consul here to distribute relief, have, according to report, asked the Washington government for a special credit to attend to these urgent requirements.

It is proposed that frame barracks, ready to be put together, shall be shipped from the United States before the American troops are brought here.

Mr. Robert P. Porter was given a banquet by the leading club of Cienfuegos while in that city.

A FRATERNAL CONCERT.

Most of Peace Commissioners and Sir William Marriott Spoke—Anglo-American Sentiments Expressed.

QUEENSTOWN, Sept. 24.—The Cunard line steamer Campania, from New York, on Sept. 17, with the United States peace commission on board, arrived here at about 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, with all well on board, excepting Senator Gray, who had been suffering from neuralgia.

There was a concert on Thursday on board the Campania, in aid of the seamen's charities. Senator Frye presided. He referred to England's victory over the Spanish armada and Dewey's great victory. In concluding his remarks, Senator Frye said:

"May God bless American and British tars. May the Angel of Peace touch your hearts tonight."

The collection netted $316 for the seamen's societies. "My Country 'Tis of Thee" and "God Save the Queen" were sung.

Sir William Marriott then proposed a vote of thanks to the chairman, adding, after hearty cheers, that "Britannia Rules the Waves," should now be amended so that some word representing Great Britain and the United States may be substituted for Britannia.

Senator Davis said in part, impressively, that by Divine dispensation the last three months had brought about a better feeling between Great Britain and the United States than ever before.

Judge Day referred to the fact that while British citizenship has been a ready passport everywhere, American citizenship now none the less furnishes a passport everywhere equal to any warrant of manhood. The speaker added that he could not talk of the mission, but he hoped all would be gratified to welcome the commission on its return from the consummation of a peace honorable to the United States and alike to the other interested power.

Whitelaw Reid also spoke. He regretted the fact that the American commission in going abroad should not be sailing under its own flag and in a vessel built in America.

The commissioners expect to stay in London until Monday and then go to Paris.

SIX MORE DEATHS.

Among Them in Porto Rico Was One Pennsylvania and One Ohio Soldier.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—The following dispatch was received at the war department yesterday:

Gengaware, Company M, Fourth Pennsylvania, all of typhoid; Private Christ Hellis, Company I, Third Illinois, remittent malarial fever."

SPAIN MUST COMPLY.

Peremptory Message of Instruction Sent to Our Commissioners in Cuba Regarding Delay.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—A very peremptory message of instruction was sent yesterday to the Cuban military commission and by them made the basis of a note to the Spanish commissioners. It was to the effect that the terms of the protocol called for the immediate evacuation of Cuba and that Spanish sovereignty must be relinquished. The American commissioners were informed that the evacuation of Cuba cannot be delayed.

Surgeon Huidekoper Resigned.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—It was stated at the war department yesterday that Lieutenant Colonel Rush Huidekoper, who was chief surgeon at Camp Thomas, has forwarded his resignation and been granted an honorable discharge. He was appointed from Pennsylvania.

For Spanish War Pensions.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—About 500 applications for pensions arising out of the war with Spain had been filed at the pension office up to yesterday.

Action of Filipino Assembly.

MANILA, Sept. 24.—The Filipino national assembly decided to request the Americans, first, to recognize the independence of the islands; second, to establish a protectorate over their external affairs and to induce the powers to recognize their independence; third, to appoint a joint commission of Americans and Filipinos for the arrangement of details to "reciprocate the Americans' services."

CINCINNATI, Sept. 24.—The Times-Star received yesterday the following dispatch from the governor of Ohio:

"COLUMBUS, Sept. 23.—The fight will not take place within the radius indicated or any other place in Ohio."

"ASA S. BUSHNELL, Governor."

In a dispatch from Indianapolis to the same paper, Governor Mount said in part: "Prizefighting is a disgrace to our boasted civilization and ought not to be tolerated anywhere. It certainly will not be tolerated in Indiana while I am governor."

FRANKFORT, Ky., Sept. 24.—Gov. Bradley upon receiving a telegram conveying the rumor that arrangements are being made to have the Corbett-McCoy fight in this state, near Cincinnati, issued a proclamation yesterday warning all persons not to attend the same and directing the peace officers of the state to take steps to suppress the fight if attempted in Kentucky.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 24.—Governor Mount yesterday wired the secretary of war, asking permission to command four companies of the One Hundred and Fifty eighth in the event of an effort to hold the Corbett-McCoy fight in Indiana.

Thomas Jones now being the only representative of the church in that country. Dr. Howell of Columbus was re-elected editor of the monthly publication, Friends, and Rev. P. Solomon Griffith of Utica, N. Y., manager.

HALDEMAN'S CRIME.

Fatally Shot His Brother-in-Law, Ex-State Senator Richardson, at Lockland.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 24.—William J. Haldeman of the Haldeman Paper company at Lockland, O., 15 miles from here, walked into the mill office at Lockland late yesterday afternoon and addressed his partner and brother-in-law, J. C. Richardson, thus:

"I have you now where I want you, all alone," and at once began firing with two revolvers. Richardson was shot four times and will die.

Richardson was an ex-state senator and is 70 years old. Haldeman can't be found and is supposed to have suicided. It is supposed Haldeman was insane. His wife is a relative of ex-Secretary Sherman.

Home Mission Society.

NEWARK, Sept. 24.—The state conference of the ladies missionary society of the Methodist church yesterday afternoon before adjournment elected the following officers: Mrs. D. S. DON'T LIKE PROSPECTS

But Trenton Potters Are Still at Work.

Because the Industry Has Not Pushed to the Front as It Has in East Liverpool. A Correspondent's View of the Situation.

"Two years ago come October the manufacturing potters of Trenton thought that they had good reason for believing that business would revive and be once more what it had been away back in the early nineties. But it was a vain hope, for something always turned up to knock the bottom out of any prospect that was sighted; and last spring, just when it was decided that things must be better, the merry war with Spain must come along to blast all hopes of a prosperous spring season. Now that hostilities have ceased for a time there is another break in the leaden sky, and some of the manufacturers indulge in the hope that we have seen the last of the dullness which has made potting anything but a picnic for the last five years.

"The most important matter for domestic manufacturers to settle now is that of prices, and what they will be in the future. Already the byword is passing around that rates have gone to such a low figure that the man who takes big orders makes big losses. Be that as it may, the truth really is that some of the books closed up last winter with very skimpy balances on the right side. This state of things is hardly satisfactory in view of the fact that the domestic manufacturers have practically secured control of the home market in staple goods. This may be questioned by some who are not yet ready to believe it possible that the long-fought-for and long-hoped-for condition has really arrived. Certain reports coming from different parts of the country point unmistakably to the fact that the American potter has won just enough recognition to start a new line of thought in the minds of those who are far-seeing enough to discern the effects of the new dispensation."

JIM MOFFATT

Has Been Very Ill, and His Recovery Is Not Expected.

The many friends of James M. Moffatt, formerly deputy sheriff of the county, will be sorry to learn that he is seriously ill at his home in Lisbon, and has wasted away until he is scarcely more than a skeleton of his former self. His chances for recovery are very slight. It was the intention to take him to the Battle Creek sanitarium yesterday, but he was unable to stand the journey.

New style overcoat, double thickness of material extending inside of the garment, made in the late box cut, is of interest to those who wish to buy an overcoat for the coming season. At

ROUGH RIDERS' ADIEU.

Colonel Roosevelt's Men Present Him With a Bronze Statue.

The camp of the rough riders was in tumult all day recently. Four troops of the command were to be paid off and mustered out of service. Still more important, there was a surprise in store for the colonel. The men all knew about it, but Colonel Roosevelt gave his word that he did not know the rough riders were to make a present to him until 20 minutes before they asked him to accept the gift.

It was about 1 o'clock p. m. when Colonel Roosevelt was commanded from his tent. He saw his command drawn up informally in a square, in the center of which stood a pine table. Upon it was something over which was thrown a horse blanket. Many other people had been attracted to the spot, and some had been told what was to be expected. There were nurses, a score of them, officers from various regiments, doctors and men and women visitors and a detail of about 200 colored troopers from the Ninth and Tenth cavalry. The rough riders think there is nothing like the colored soldiers and the black regiments fairly worship the volunteer cavalry. Lieutenant Colonel Brodie escorted Colonel Roosevelt to a place in front of the table. The colonel was plainly flustered. His tanned face took on a deep red tinge, and before a word had been said there was a moisture about his eyes that told that he was moved. Will S. Murphy, a private of Troop M, rough riders, and a judge in the Indian Territory, stepped from the crowd and, doffing his hat, said:

"A few moments since I was informed that I had been selected to present to you as a very slight token of the admiration, love and esteem in which you are held by the officers and men of your regiment a 'Broncho Buster' in bronze which has been prepared to especially typify the idea which must have been in your mind when you felt called upon to raise a regiment of men to assist your country in the recent struggle so gloriously ended. At this time it is not possible or appropriate that I should go into the details of the organization of that regiment or mention the many glorious deeds accomplished and hardships endured by you, and the world itself knows what those hardships were. History will record them, and honor will be given where honor is due.

"It is fitting, however, that I, one of the troopers from the ranks of your regiment, should say that the honor given me in making this presentation is due to the fact that it is well known that, while you held your officers in the highest esteem on account of their gallantry, bravery and ability, your heart of hearts was ever with your men, whether in tented field or in the trenches before the enemy's lines or, better still, in the trenches taken from the enemy. In conclusion allow me to say that one and all, from the highest to the lowest hailing from this great and united country, will carry in our hearts a pleasant remembrance of your every act, for they have always been of the kindest as colonel of the rough riders, and we hope that 'The Broncho Buster' will continue through life to remind you of that fact."

There was a rousing cheer as Judge Murphy, when he had concluded, removed the horse blanket and disclosed Frederic Remington's statue of "The Broncho Buster." "Three cheers for Colonel Roosevelt!" some one shouted, and then the cowboy contingents sent up cheers and their peculiar yells, which could be heard a mile away. As Colonel Roosevelt replied to Private Murphy there were tears in his eyes. Several times he faltered while he spoke. He said:

"Officers and Men—I really do not know what to say to you. Nothing could possibly happen that would touch and please me as this has touched and pleased me. Trooper Murphy said quite rightly that my men were nearest my heart, for, while I know I need not say to my officers in what a deep regard I hold them, they will not mind me saying that just a little bit closer come the men. I have never tried to coddle you and have never hesitated to call upon you to spend your best blood like water. Of course I tried to do all I could for you, and you are the best judges as to whether I have succeeded or not.

"I am proud of this regiment beyond measure. I am proud of it because it is a typical American regiment. The foundation of the regiment was the cow puncher and we have got him here in bronze. No gift could have been so appropriate as this bronze of Frederic Remington's. The men of the west and southwest, horsemen, riflemen and herders of cattle, have been the backbone of this regiment, which demonstrates that Uncle Sam has another reserve of fighting men to call upon if the necessity arises. The west stands ready to give tens of thousands of men like you, and we are only samples of the fighters the west can put forth. Besides the cow puncher this regiment contained men from every section of the country, every state in the Union, and because of that we feel proud of it.

"It is primarily an American regiment and it is American because it is composed of all the races which have made America their country by adoption and those who have claimed it as their country by inheritance. It gives me extreme pleasure to look around among you and see men of every occupation, men of means and men who work with their hands for a livelihood, and at the same time know that I have you for friends. You are men of widely different pursuits, yet you stand here side by side; you fought shoulder to shoulder. No man asked quarter for himself and no one went in to show that he was as good as his neighbor. That is the American spirit. You cannot imagine how proud I am of your friendship and regard.

"I have also a profound respect for you because you have fighting qualities and because you had the qualities which enabled you to get into the fight. Outside of my own immediate family, as I said before, I shall never show as strong ties as I do toward you. I am more than pleased that you feel the same toward me. I realized when I took charge of you that I was taking upon myself a great responsibility. I cared for you as individuals, but I did not forget that at any moment it might be necessary to sacrifice the individual for the whole. You would have scorned a commander who would have hesitated to expose you to any risk. I was bound that no other regiment should get any nearer to the Spanish lines than you got, and I do not think any did. [Cheers.]

"We parted with many in the fight who could ill be spared, and I think that the most vivid memorial that we will take away with us will be of those whom we left under Cuban sod and those who died in the hospitals here in the United States—the men who died from wounds and the men who with the same devotion to country died from disease. I cannot mention all the names now, but three—Capron, O'Neill and Fish—will suffice. They were men who died in the pride of their youthful strength.

"Now, just a word more I want to say to some of the men I see standing around not of your number. I refer to the regiments, cavalry regiments, who occupied the right and left flanks of us at Las Quasimas—the Ninth and Tenth cavalry regiments. [Prolonged applause.] The Spaniards called them 'smoked Yankees,' but we found them to be an excellent breed of Yankees. I am sure that I speak the sentiments of every man and officer in this assemblage when I say that between you and the other cavalry regiments there is a tie which we trust will never be broken [Cheers.]

"I would have been most deeply touched if the officers had given me this testimonial; but, coming from you, my men, I appreciate it tenfold. It comes to me from you who shared the hardships of the campaign with me, who gave me a piece of your hard tack when I had none and who gave me your blankets when I had none to lie upon. To have such a gift come from this peculiarly American regiment touches me more than I can say. This is something I shall hand down to my children, and I shall value it more than I do the weapons I carried through the campaign."

"Now let us have three cheers and a tiger for our colonel," cried Captain Curry of H Troop. The cheers and tiger were given in a hearty way. "Now, boys," said Colonel Roosevelt, "I wish to take each of you by the hand as a special privilege and say goodbye to you individually. This is to be our farewell in camp, but we shall meet again in New York." The rough riders formed in line and marched by the colonel, each shaking the hand of his leader.—New York World.

HUNDRED POUND NUGGET.

Father Long of Vancouver, a priest, recently found a nugget in West Australia weighing 100 pounds. The news of the discovery caused a stampede, but Father Long refused to tell exactly where the nugget was found. Next day 6,000 miners gathered in front of Donnellan's public house, where the priest was a guest, and clamored for the facts about the finding of the nugget. Father Long at length yielded.

He said the nugget was in the shape of a sickle, and he had called it the "Sacred and Golden Sickle," as it had been found as the result of a vision that came to a poor but holy parishioner. It had been dug up by the priest, guided by the parishioner. The nugget had been found clean and brilliant as if polished, six feet under the surface, on the Kurnalpa road, a quarter of a mile from the nearest lake. When the nugget was exhibited and the place indicated, the crowd made a wild rush for the spot in buggies, on horseback and on foot.—New York Sun.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning Sept. 25. Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle. Topic.—"What is true success?"—Math. xvi. 21-27.

Worldly success is often not true success. Few people in the world really have correct ideas as to what success is. To many to succeed means to lay up an immense fortune; to others it means to reach some high position in the social or political world; to others, again, it has no other meaning than the satisfying of the appetites and desires of life, no matter in what direction they may run. To achieve what we start out in life to achieve, no matter what the object of life may be, is the highest idea that most people have of success. But, alas, how many do that and then at the end of life feel that life, instead of having been a success, has been a miserable failure! The goal of life is won, but as we touch the crown it withers and fades, and we say to ourselves in deepest remorse: "This is not what we thought it was. This is not success. This is failure."

Christ's solemn words here suggest two things about true success.

1. True success comes from giving, not from getting. This may seem paradoxical, but it is true. "Whoever will save his life shall lose it, and whosoever will lose his life for My sake shall find it." This is Christ's principle of success. To find the highest and truest life, which alone can be called success, we must lose our lives, we must sacrifice them, for Christ's sake and for the sake of humanity. True success lies in making the most of our lives for God and for humanity, and we can never do that if we are sordidly laying up gold, selfishly seeking for office or sating ourselves with the pleasures of life. Self must be eliminated to achieve success. Humiliation leads to exaltation. The cross is necessary to the crown.

2. True success is eternal, not temporal. Temporal success is an illusion. It has no reality. He only succeeds in life who has so used this world as to assure himself a safe entrance into eternal life. "What is a man profited if he gain the whole world and lose his own soul?" or the higher life of the soul in eternity? And if the gaining of the whole world would not compensate us for the loss of our souls how much less will it pay us to lose our souls for the trifling part of the world that we may gain. The world is not the true judge of man's failure or success. "The Son of Man shall come in the glory of His father, with His angels, and then He shall reward every man according to his works." This award will decide the success or failure of our lives, and it will prove that he who lost his life here for God, for Christ, for humanity, has found it, or, in other words, has succeeded.

Bible Readings.—Josh i, 8; Eccl. ix, 11; xii, 13, 14; Zech. iv, 6; Math. vi, 33; xxv, 14-30; Mark viii, 34-38; Luke xiv, 26-29; John xii, 24-26; I Cor. x, 31; xv, 58; Col. iii, 17; II Tim. iv, 7; Rev. ii, 10; xxi, 7.

Responsibility.

A sense of responsibility not only holds one in check, but tends to develop what is good in him. Put a person in a position where trusts are committed to his care, or under conditions where he is expected to be good and to do good, he is all the more apt to display his character and aptitude to the best advantage. Men of worth are what they are because they have been put upon their mettle. People have trusted them, or parents and friends have shown that they expected something worthy of them, or conscience has in some way been aroused within them, or existing condition has forced them to do and to dare, and they have responded to the demands made upon them promptly and fully, to their own and others' benefit.—Presbyterian.

A Danger.

We shall be tempted to forget, but we must not forget, that we have for a quarter of a century been leading the way toward the new achievements of peace, that we have been preparing for the time when all controversies between nations shall be settled without resort to war. If we forget that, the imminent danger will be that we shall fall in love with war, and that, deluded by the phantom of military and naval glory, we shall seek new opportunities to use our strength and display our prowess as a dictator among the nations.—Christian Register.

Kindness From the Old.

Kindness seems to come with a double grace and tenderness from the old. It seems in them the hoarded and long purified benevolence of years, as if it had survived and conquered the baseness and selfishness of the ordeal it had passed—as if the wind which had broken the form had swept in vain across the heart, and the frosts which had chilled the blood and whitened the thin locks had no power over the warm tide of the affections.—Churchman.

Reserving Religion.

It is a pity that many reserve their religion for the still hour of worship, but fail to display it in the active duties of daily life. In the one case there are the bowed head, the gentle tone, the reverent feeling; in the other there are the scowl, the harsh temper, brute force and greed. Yet God is not the God of

GET YOUR NOTICE?

Many East Liverpool Citizens Have Acknowledged Receipt—The Question is Important.

A notice means a great deal. It all depends on the notice. There are many kinds. This one is serious. It's nature's notice. A warning note of trouble. Neglect it not, delay is dangerous! Where does it come? In the back. Why does it come? Because the kidneys are sick. How does it come? With aches and pains.

Backache, lame back and weak back are notices. Notices of kidney trouble. Notices to take Doan's Kidney Pills. Don't read them wrongly. Don't take our advice—take your neighbors. Lots of East Liverpool people can tell you.

There are many kidney remedies. But only one cure. Other kidney pills—but only one Doan's.

Here's one that knows: Mr. W. P. Cochran, of Mulberry street, East End, says: "At intervals for thirty years I had serious kidney and bladder trouble. I suffered with all the various symptoms in their worst form. The agony I went through can hardly be described. Many nights I rolled from one side to the other trying to find an easy position for my back. I could not move without having sharp twinges of pain and I was also troubled with a urinary difficulty, the secretions being very irregular and at times distressing. I ran down so that I could hardly help myself. Doctors treated me and I took a power of stuff. I had given up all hopes of being cured, having suffered so long and not finding anything that would give me relief more than a few days. When I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised as a never-failing remedy, I got a box at the W. & W. Pharmacy. After taking half of it I could see some improvement. I continued to improve from that time on. Doan's Kidney Pills did me more good than anything I ever used and I am quite free in expressing my opinion of them by saying that they are a good remedy for all kidney and bladder trouble."

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents, or mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no other.

Those Who Succeed Best.

The men whom I have seen succeed best in life have always been cheerful and hopeful men, who went about their business with a smile on their faces and took the changes and chances of this mortal life like men, facing rough and smooth alike as it came, and so found the truth of the old proverb that "good times and bad times and all times pass over."—Exchange.

WELLSVILLE.

So the Improvement Company
Did Nothing.

It Will Be Held Next Week When Something Is Expected—Found His Property at Smithfield—All the News of Wellsville.

The directors of the Improvement company met last evening in the council chamber. Samuel Stevenson, E. G. Whittaker, Judge Smith and G. B. Aten were out of town, and some others were unable to be present, so there was little business transacted.

On next Monday at 2 o'clock another meeting will be held at the council chamber at which it is expected that nearly every member can be present, and some necessary work will be attended to.

Work at the West End pottery is being pushed rapidly toward completion, and it is hoped and expected that in time a mill will be built also, thus fulfilling the long delayed promise to the lot purchasers in that section. This the Improvement company confidently expect to accomplish.

Found the Horse.

John Kennedy received a message from Smithfield yesterday that his horse and buggy were at that place, and he left town immediately.

Two men had offered the rig to a dealer for $50, and later had agreed to take $25. The dealer was suspicious and giving the men $5 told them to call later for the balance. He sent word immediately and held the whole outfit until Mr. Kennedy arrived. This proved to be the first correct clue.

Constable Thorn was called on Tuesday by the sheriff of Jefferson county to identify a horse and buggy at Minerva, but when he saw it he knew it was not the rig he was after. A young man who is a school teacher in the vicinity, had been driving with two young ladies and they had all been thrown over an embankment. Later the horse in its struggles had righted the buggy and gone on the road some distance to Valley where it had been caught and put in the stable at the farm of Mrs. Phoebe Clews, and then word was sent to the sheriff who communicated with the officers in town.

Private Holloway Dying.

Word comes from Mrs. Holloway, this morning, that her son, Private Holloway, was sinking rapidly and would probably die. The doctors have given up all hope for his recovery. He became very sick last week, although he has been in the hospital for a long time.

A sailor in full costume attracted much attention at the depot yesterday afternoon. His name could not be learned, but he was on his way from Philadelphia to his home in Detroit. His vessel is the Richmond.

The News of Wellsville.

The football team of the Steubenville high school have challenged the local high school to a game, and have been accepted. Arrangements are being made, and the game will probably come off during this month.

Rev. C. L. Bradshaw, of Brocknaville, Pa., will fill the pulpit of the First Presbyterian church on Sunday.

Rev. Earl D. Holtz, the new pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, is expected to fill the pulpit tomorrow.

Brakeman Gilson of the Cleveland and Pittsburgh road, who has been confined to his home in Wellsville suffering with typhoid fever, is steadily improving. His recovery is sure and he will be able to be out within a very short time.

Miss Jane Dickson and Miss Helen Dickson took the afternoon train yesterday for Bellevue, Pa. They will visit their sister and attend the exposition, returning Monday morning in time for school.

G. W. Pease left yesterday afternoon for New Castle after a short visit with his brother, Ellis Pease.

The household goods of E. Moore, of Allegheny, have been received at the upper depot.

Cheap Trips.

Persons contemplating business or pleasure trips to the northwest, west or southwest may arrange for an enjoyable journey at low fare by communicating with J. K. Dillon, district passenger agent of the Pennsylvania lines, No. 360 Fifth avenue, Pittsburg. He represents the short lines to Chicago, St. Louis, Louisville and Cincinnati, the gateways to the northwest, west and southwest. Daily through train service from Pittsburg, and from western Pennsylvania and eastern Ohio points. The Pennsylvania is the only system of railways having a double route between Pittsburg and Chicago. Tell Mr. Dillon where you wish to go, and he will cheerfully furnish full information about special low rates and quick through time.

Frenchwomen as Wives.

Max O'Rell considers that Frenchwomen make better wives for poor or struggling men than do the women of other nationalities. Their ambition and keen sense, he says, are great helps to a man's efforts, and they never allow themselves to weary in their endeavors to be cheery and charming. Mr. O'Rell says that the women are naturally exceedingly energetic and endowed with that vivacity which is so great a support to their own spirits, and that this enables them to impart animation and courage to others.

Other writers have noticed this peculiarity of temperament in Frenchwomen. It has been said that Americans have it to a certain degree, that degree which compels a constant activity, but that lack of true balance makes womanly energy in the western continent fitful and uncertain, while the Gallic women will be found of more equable natures.

It is stated that the merchandise carried by rail in the United States is double the amount of land carriage of all the other nations of the earth combined. This means that the 70,000,000 people of the United States transport twice as much merchandise as the remaining 1,400,000,000 of mankind.

Brevity.

The late Duc de Sagan used to relate this story: "King Frederick William III was very sparing of words, as is well known, but one day he was told there was at Toplitz, where he was then drinking the waters, a Hungarian magnate still less talkative than the king. An opportunity for a meeting was soon managed, and the following conversation took place, the king beginning: 'Bathing?' 'Drinking.' 'Soldier?' 'Millionaire.' 'Good.' 'Policeman?' 'King.' 'Compliments.'" sentatives. He believes the people understand the nature of the charges made, and has so much faith in their

 not think they will support the Democratic ticket because certain of the officers of the army were incompetent.

It will be cheering news, when President McKinley hears after election day,
 that he was right in his view so far as the Eighteenth was concerned. This district should roll up a majority for

 made a canvass on what he pretended to believe was a platform.

Two Men Who Have Been In Jail Since Wednesday.

WILL EXPLAIN TO MAYOR BOUGH

What They Know of the Assault Upon
 Michaels Who Is Still In Bed—Old Cases
 Settled—The Solicitor May Go After a Fine.

Mayor Bough was in Lisbon yesterday, and as a result there was not much business for him to attend to this morning.

The hearing of Chip Gamble and Alex Heakin, who are supposed to be implicated in the trouble which occurred at the Pittsburg house in Second street Wednesday night, took place this afternoon at 3 o'clock. The men have been in jail since Wednesday night,
 and no specific charge had been made
 against them up to noon.

Saloonist Michaels, who was badly
 injured during the trouble, had not improved much this morning. He rested
 very well during the night, but is not yet able to arise from his bed. The injuries to his eyes and head are very bad,
 in fact, worse than was first thought.

John Boyle, who was involved in
 some trouble several weeks ago, called on the mayor Thursday night and paid
 his fine, which amounted to $9.60. The case had been in court for almost a month, and it is at last settled.

Recently there was a trial of unusual proportions which excited much interest among a certain class of people in the city. After all the evidence was heard the mayor reviewed the case, and assessed a large fine, which, with the costs, amounted to about three figures.
 This has not been paid yet and it is thought the city solicitor will have to bring action to secure it. Some new developments may be made known within a few days.

Liverpool People Will Take a Prominent

 will talk of the primary department,
 and the report of Miss Alva Jackman,
 secretary and treasurer of the associa-

 of the Christian Women's Board of

AN OLD PREACHER

Who Was Well Known to Lutherans Is Dead.

Rev. Abraham N. Bartholomew, one of the oldest and best known Evangelical Lutheran ministers in this vicinity,
 died Thursday at his home in Allegheny. He was 80 years old, and was born in Salem. For nearly half a century he had charges in the eastern section of Ohio. His last charge was the
 English Lutheran church at McKees
 Rocks, where he served for six years.
 He is survived by two daughters.

Reverend Bartholomew was too ill to attend the late session of synod here,
 and his illness caused much comment
 among the ministers who were present.

 commenced moving out their tracks in Eighth and Jethro streets, and the streets are consequently in a very poor condition for teams.

FREE FOR ALL FIGHT

Because of a Difference at the Grand Opera House.

Thursday evening a number of young men began shoving each other as they were going into the Grand, and as a result some people became angry. They arranged matters to settle the difficulty after the performance was over,
 and repaired to Thompson hill where
 two of their number began to fight.
 It was not long until the balance of the party were in the battle, and it wound
 up in a free-for-all fight, and several persons are today nursing black eyes.

On the River.

A small rise will be here within a few days. It will come from the heavy rains at the headwaters of the Allegheny
 and Monongahela rivers. The rise, it is thought, will amount to several feet,
 which will give an excellent packet
 height.

By the middle of next week
 lower river packets are almost sure to be in operation. At the wharf this morning the marks registered 20 inches.

How Francis Bacon Was Rid of Warts.

The taking away of Warts, by Rub-

 com'on exp'ment: And I doe appre-

 Afterwardes when I was about 16 years old, being at Paris, there grew upon
 both my handes a number of Warts (at ye least 100) in a Moneths space. The English Embassadors Lady, who was
 a woman free from sup'stition, told me
 one day. She would helpe me away

Whereupon shée got a peice of Larde,

 that within five weekes space, all the Warts went quite away: And ye

Will Be Used as a Temporary Hospital.

SOME MONEY IS NOW NEEDED

To Place the Institution In Good Working Order—It Is Believed It Will Soon Meet All Expenses—Ladies Will Work Hard to Make It Successful.

The Hospital association held an important meeting last evening, and as a result a temporary hospital will probably be started in the city in the very near future.

The session was largely attended, and the committee appointed to view sites reported on several locations. Much discussion followed, and it was finally decided to lease the George Gaston property, in Calcutta road, for a period of two years, with the privilege of purchasing the building at the end of that time. The matter was put in the hands of the board of directors, and they will secure the lease as soon as possible.

It is the purpose of the association to open a temporary hospital just as soon as possible, and plans are now being formulated for fitting up the house and operating the hospital so that it will be almost self-sustaining. They will need funds to start the hospital, and soliciting committees will commence work at once, and the time for the opening of the hospital depends largely upon the generosity of citizens.

The site selected by the association is a very good one for a hospital. It is on high ground, easy of access and close to the heart of the city.

NANCY GUILFORD

Is Publicly Accused of the Death of Emma Gill.

BRIDGEPORT, Sept. 24.—[Special]—The superintendent of police announces that Dr. Nancy Guilford is responsible for the death of Emma Gill. He says the body was dismembered in a bathtub at the Guilford House. Harry Osley is named as accomplice.

Impartial.

An English clergyman, recently settled in a small town in Perthshire, met a farmer's boy while visiting the members of his congregation. In the course of conversation the boy said his parents had an aunt staying with them. The parson, not having much acquaintance with the Scottish language, and not quite comprehending what the boy said asked:

To which the young agriculturist replied:

"Weel, whiles the aue an whiles the ither, excep' when feyther leathers them laitha."—Dundee People's Journal.

Dry Plate Photography.

The first amateur pictures on dry plates were made something after the method employed by Charles Lamb's celebrated Chinaman in obtaining roast pig. The Chinaman burned his house to roast his pig. The amateur tore his camera to pieces to get his picture. The first hand camera was a pasteboard box containing one plate. A pinhole served as a lens and after the exposure of the plate the box was taken to the dark room, cut open, and the plate extracted. This was rather expensive picture making, and it was not long before a magazine camera was invented, and suddenly all the world began taking pictures. —Elizabeth Flint Wade in St. Nicholas.

The Kind of Bird.

The party with the long hair and starving family, not to mention lesser symptoms of the literary bent, was less servile than usual.

"How about my poem?" he brusquely demanded.

"She's a bird," replied the conductor of the magazine.

"What kind of a bird?" persisted the man of letters, thoroughly aroused.

And the other, saying nothing, merely indicated with a gesture the pigeon-hole above his desk. —Detroit Journal.

AFTER WILD CAT MEN

Insurance Agents Must Locate In Ohio

IF THEY WOULD DO BUSINESS

The Department Is After Them, and Proposes to Take the Cases to the United States Court—West Virginia Agents In Danger.

A proposition that has been bothering the insurance officials of Ohio has just been settled by an action in the United States court at Buffalo.

All efforts of the state insurance department has been to no avail. Agents would come into Ohio from other states and not taking out a license to do business in the state they would write insurance and then leave immediately. The insurance department could not get hold of them to bring suit against them, and, in fact, could not even find who they had on their list. The difficulties that confront them were these: Those who had taken out policies in the companies would not disclose their names or places of business, as it might make them lose the amount of money they had put in. Those who had refused to buy insurance had nothing to tell. Thus the state was at a loss to know what to do. Their only method of procedure, it would seem, would be to bring suit against the agents who had been doing what the department regards as illegal business.

The means taken by other states to get hold of these agents has been very gratifying to all of those connected with insurance in this state. The case in Buffalo is one where the United States authorities have taken hold of the agents and had them brought before the United States district court on a charge of illegal use of the mails. They hold that while soliciting insurance is not an illegal business, still when their company has not a station in this territory, they say that the use of the mails for them to accomplish what they could not by personal subscription is an illegal use of the mail.

In the case in Buffalo, agents have been soliciting business in this state and Deputy Commissioner of Insurance Stemmons has been called there to testify. Captain Stemmons knows little or nothing about the case, still he does know that agents have come from West Virginia and have solicited insurance in this state. He will be asked to show, however, that they have no right to do business in this state, as they have no license here.

The commissioner of insurance says with this as a cue he will begin proceedings against those who are writing "wild-cat" insurance in this state at once. He has his eye on several companies who have been doing this sort of work for a good while. The department has been after them but have never been able to corner them in any way. It is thought that they will have a number of cases in the United States court very shortly and some will be from this part of Ohio.

EPWORTH LEAGUE.

Lesson For the Week Beginning Sept. 25.
Comment by Rev. W. J. Yates, A. M.
Topic, The Barren Fig Tree.

A fruit tree that bears no fruit is of little value. It must soon go to the wood pile and stove. We don't grow fruit trees for ornament nor for timber, but for fruit. Men are profitable only as they show intelligent integrity.

Why are so many worthless folks permitted to live? How pleasant this world would be if only the good were permitted to live! But this is not that kind of a world. It never was and never will be. Barren fig trees have appeared on all its hillsides and valleys. They still grow. The more barren of righteous fruit the more flourishing some people seem to be. Why doesn't God cut them down? Wealth, beauty, wit, genius, gracefulness, learning, all the natural advantages of soil and sunshine, seem to be theirs, but they produce little for the world's hunger. We look to them in vain in our famine. How often we grieve over them! How much good they might do if they would! We are attracted toward them by all they are. We cannot commend them nor defend them because of what they are not.

God doesn't hasten to remove them. We have no right to do so. What can be done? Try a little digging and cultivation. Put some time and effort into it. Study their nature, their surroundings, their troubles and hindrances. See what is the cause of the barrenness and study how best to remedy it. If it is a removable cause, take it away. Use tact. Many a person who has been morally and spiritually useless in the world needs only a little special care and cultivation to become perennially fruitful of all Christian graces.

This presence of barren trees in the Lord's orchard is a source of helplessness. It is a warning to those who do bear fruit that they may need pruning and care lest they fall into the same condition. It is also helpful in keeping ever in remembrance the real value of life as fruitage and not mere foliage. It gives opportunity for the exercise of Christian care and affectionate assistance, blessing the one rescued and more deeply benefiting the one who gives the help.

Let them grow, Master, and give us grace and strength to dig a little more about them.

Rev. M. C. B. Mason, D. D.

The great numbers of colored people in the membership of the Methodist Episcopal church have led many to desire a colored bishop and many others to believe it would be wise to have such a one. Whether there ever will be such in this church is uncertain, but it is clear that there is no prejudice on account of color which prevents the church advancing to any office one who is fitted to occupy it efficiently. The election of Dr. Mason by the last general conference as one of the secretaries of the Freedmen's Aid and Southern Education society was gratifying to the church at large. He is of the negro race and manifests no disposition to apologize for the fact. He is every inch a man, great hearted, strong of body and mind, cultured and devoted. In public speech he is full of wit of the brightest kind, logical, polished, forceful and magnetic. He is a true orator of the best style. He moves people to do the right. No man appears before the annual conferences who is more cordially welcomed and more gladly heard than this "brother in black." "Long may his bow abide in strength!"

Hadn't Heard of the War.

A party of fishermen found a man and his family up the Tennessee river who had never heard of the war with Spain. The man wouldn't believe it until a newspaper with reports from the battlefields was produced and read. The poorly informed native said his lack of information was due to the fact that he hadn't "bin over to town fer purty nigh a year."—Louisville Post.

Too High an Estimate.

Think of it, the Spanish functionaries at Havana demanded that Clara Barton pay $60,000 in revenue taxes before being permitted to land Red Cross provisions to feed Havana's starving people! Clearly we have not been mistaken in our estimate of Spanish character.—Boston Journal.

UNION LABELS.

It should be a deep-rooted principle of all union workmen and union sympathizers, and particularly those members of the different organizations of East Liverpool, to buy nothing but Union Label goods, in preference to all others. And why not? If we ask fair wages for our labor, why should we buy goods made at unfair wages by others?

The Union Label in every industry is a guarantee of fair wages, decent working hours, and union labor employed.

UNION MADE HATS.

This Label is about an inch and a half square, and is printed on buff-colored paper. It is placed on every union made hat before it leaves the workman's hands. If a dealer takes a label from one hat and places it in another, or has any detached labels in his store, do not buy from him, as his labels may be counterfeit, and his hats may be the product of scab or non-union labor.

UNION MADE CLOTHES.

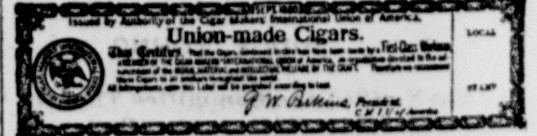

You will find the linen label attached by machine stitching to the inside breast pocket of the coat, on the inside of the buckle strap of the vest, and on the waistband lining of the pants.

Alf Shaw Has Finished the Season With Syracuse and May Be Signed Again—A
and Games That Are Over.

George Carey, in the last two games he played with Minneapolis this season, out of nine times at bat made three hits. In fielding he accepted 26 chances without an error. His work since joining the Minneapolis club has been first class in every respect, and there is but little doubt that he will be re-signed for next season unless he again breaks into the National league.

Alf Shaw has finished the season with Syracuse and will return to his home in Uhrichsville in the near future. He played a good game with the Stars, and will undoubtedly be signed if he is not drafted by some of the league teams, and that seems highly improbable.

Bobby Cargo played a great game at short this season for the Canandaigua club, the champions of the New York league.

A number of local ball players are today playing with the New Cumberland club in their final game with Toronto.

The Wellsville club is claiming the championship of the county and valley. The numerous other teams in the county and valley are trying to figure out upon what they base their claims unless it is by defeating a number of second rate teams. They have been defeated by Toronto and have not met the Liverpool, Salem or New Cumberland clubs, which would mean three defeats for them.

A number of the professional ball players will be home in the near future and it is proposed to arrange a series of games with teams in this vicinity.

The football eleven are practicing each evening, and the club will undoubtedly be stronger than ever.

INSTANTANEOUS RELIEF FROM ASTHMA

Has Been Afforded Many Sufferers In East
Liverpool.

If there was doubt in the mind of any sufferer from asthma in this city as to truth of the claims made for Doctor Schiffmann's Asthma cure, that doubt no longer remains, providing he was among those who called at W. O. Hamilton's drug store, last Thursday and obtained a free sample package. A great number who have already tried the same declare in positive terms that the relief was immediate; that the wretched spasms were checked; that free expectoration was induced; that a reclining position was readily assumed and gratefully maintained; that the sleep which followed was restful and unbroken, and that the morning brought a clear head and a feeling of delighted thankfulness which no words are too strong to describe.

Abundant voluntary testimonials prove that Doctor Schiffmann's Asthma cure not only gives instant relief in the worst cases, but has positively cured thousands who were considered incurable. The remedy is now sold by all druggists in packages at 50c and $1, thus bringing it within the reach of all. Should any reader be unable to obtain it of his druggist, it will be sent, postpaid, by sending to Dr. R. Schiffmann, 316 Rosabel St., St. Paul, Minn.

QUEEN'S MEN TRICKED.

"Defense Committee" Fishing.

An amusing and rather significant incident occurred at Quebec at the time of the organization of the joint high commission which has been carefully concealed by the Dominion authorities. On the day when the commissioners of the United States and Canada met for the first time to exchange compliments and cordiality and to prepare for the permanent removal of all causes of irritation there appeared at Quebec a distinguished party of military men from England—a major general, a colonel of engineers and a captain of the royal navy—sent over by her majesty's government to inspect the defenses upon the American border and report how they might be extended and strengthened. Their arrival was unexpected, at least by the civil authorities, but fortunately Sir Wilfrid Laurier, prime minister of Canada, heard of it promptly and in time to prevent the disclosure of their mission.

He met the "defense committee," as it is called, in the members' rooms and explained how inopportune was their arrival just at the moment when delegates from the United States were gathering to arrange for perpetual peace and begged them to clear out before any one discovered their business. They resented such an unceremonious dismissal as a reflection upon their dignity and showed their instructions, but Sir Wilfrid told them that he didn't care a tinker's rap about their dignity or their instructions; there were no fortifications upon the American border for them to inspect, and the Canadian government did not propose to have any, and they might go home and report to the military authorities in London that all the money in the world could not fortify the Canadian frontier against an invasion from the United States. The committee then explained that they could not return to England without doing something or going somewhere, so Sir Wilfrid Laurier borrowed a car and some guns and fishing tackle from Sir William Van Horne and sent them over to inspect the defenses of the Rocky mountains, with an injunction to keep away from Quebec and to conceal their mission.—William E. Curtis in Chicago Record.

THE FASHODA AFFAIR.

Lead to Trouble With England.

The Fashoda question between England and France has entered upon a very grave stage. All the elements of rupture are provided by the situation. There is no mistaking the stern determination of the English people that Fashoda shall not belong to France. The French press, on the other hand, notably the semi-official Temps, has been steadily stiffening in its resolve to hold on to Major Marchand's prize. News of the result of General Kitchener's advance to Fashoda is therefore awaited with the keenest anxiety.

It has been stated in London that General Kitchener started for Fashoda without fresh instructions from his government. The New York World correspondent can state positively on official authority that this is not so. He asked for and received by telegraph fresh instructions in view of the discovery that Major Marchand had forestalled him on the upper Nile. This fact renders the situation all the more serious if he adopts hostile measures against the French explorers, as he will be acting under express authority from the British government. What his instructions are the foreign office in London declined to disclose.

The truth is that Lord Salisbury dares not surrender Fashoda. It is a fact patent to any competent observer that the mood of the English people at this moment is strongly warlike. This is due in part to profound confidence in the British fleet, now in condition to cope with any possible combination, and partly to exasperation at the feeling created abroad by Salisbury's timid policy that England won't fight for anything nowadays. In their present temper the English people will tolerate no concession, graceful or otherwise, in relation to Fashoda. Even entering upon any dallying negotiations would ruin the government. On the other hand, France is not a country to receive an affront with equanimity, so that the tension of feeling here until this Fashoda affair is settled can be appreciated.

Child Pleads For a Souvenir.

Up in the Waldorf-Astoria, in New York, a little girl, about 6 years old, came dancing up to a big rough rider standing at the entrance to the cafe and exclaimed, "Oh, please, dear soldier, give me a button for keepsakes." The man in the khaki uniform leaned over and kissed the child tenderly on the cheek.

"I've got one just like you," he said, and then, pulling out his sheathknife, he cut two buttons from his coat. "Here, my dear," he said, "take this; there." "Oh, thank you, dear soldier," lisped the little one, and she ran off bearing the two souvenirs above her flaxen head.—New York Press.

Strange as it may seem, the origin of the miter is to be found in Acts ii, 3, "And there appeared unto them cloven tongues like as of fire, and it sat upon each of them." The miter is supposed to be a representation of these cloven tongues.

HORRID REGAL RITE.

Her Remains Not to Rest In the Capuchin Vault In Their Entirety. The Intestines and Heart to Be Preserved In Different Churches.

The remains of the murdered Empress Elizabeth reached Vienna the other day, and there is every reason to believe that, in spite of the very little sympathy that existed between the people of this gay metropolis and herself during her lifetime, the mourning of the Viennese will be sincere and heartfelt.

The unpopularity of the kaiserin at Vienna was due to her aversion to all those state ceremonies and public functions of which the Austrians are so fond. The people seemed to think that they had a right to exact that she should constitute herself a part and parcel of the imperial show, and they resented her failure to comply with their wishes. She, on the other hand, never either forgot or forgave the coldness and lack of cordiality which had marked her reception by the people as well as by the nobility of the kaiserstadt when first she came to Austria as a 16-year-old bride.

And, besides that, she detested being stared at, and it was impossible for her to show herself anywhere at Vienna without being stared at not only in an ordinary fashion, but even through big fieldglasses and telescopes, a horrible ordeal for a woman suffering from nerves so high strung as hers. In Hungary it was quite different. There she was never mobbed, the people possessing too keen a sense of their native dignity to run after her and stare at her in the rude way of the Viennese. That is why she loved Hungary so.

The remains of the empress will within the next few days, therefore, be laid in the vaults of that old Capuchin church at Vienna where all the members of the imperial house of Hapsburg since the days of Emperor Matthias repose. There are nearly 1,400 coffins in these vaults, the most notable objects being the enormous sarcophagus which Empress Maria Theresa caused to be made for her beloved husband, herself and her children. According to an old custom, members of the imperial family must actually lie in wood, though the outer coffin may be of metal. The caskets of the emperors and empresses and of their children are covered with black velvet and gold, while those of the collateral archdukes and archduchesses are covered with red velvet and silver.

Emperor Joseph II ordered that the outer coffins from his reign onward should be plain copper shells, with a cross and an inscription on the lid, and his own is perfectly plain. The first return to ornamentation was made in 1872 for the coffin of Archduchess

Sophia, the emperor's mother. Formerly the males of the imperial family were laid on the gospel side crypt and the female on the epistle side. But this rule was broken through because Empress Eleonora Magdalena wished to be laid beside her husband. Since 1844 the coffins are grouped according to families. Pope Pius VI visited these vaults in 1782. Napoleon I likewise visited them and was so much impressed by the gloomy scene that he is said to have exclaimed, "Vanitas vanitatum, omnia vanitas—hors la force."

In accordance with the traditions and regulations governing the obsequies of the members of the imperial house, the corpse of the empress will not be laid to rest in the Capuchin vault in its entirety. Thus her intestines will be placed in a gold and crystal receptacle and conveyed with much religious pomp and courtly ceremony to the Cathedral of St. Stephen, there to be preserved along with the entrails of more than a thousand other members of the house of Hapsburg in the niches of a great shrine constructed for the purpose. Her majesty's heart—the only Hapsburg heart that has ever been pierced by the knife of an assassin—will in the same way be placed in a beautifully chased golden urn and conveyed in a similar manner to the Church of the Augustines, scarcely a stone's throw away.

The only member of the house of Hapsburg who is on record as having been laid whole in his tomb is Archduke Charles Louis, brother of the emperor, who, fervently believing in the resurrection of the body, expressed his objections to this potting and dismembering process of his remains and thought it uncanny that his heart and his entrails should each have to go hunting through the city for his body on the day of judgment.

Let me add that most of the reigning houses of the continent of Europe are accustomed to entomb their members, so to speak, in sections precisely as is the case with the sovereign family of Hapsburg.—Marquise de Fontenoy in New York Journal.

Willing to Fortify.

It was a few minutes before dinner when little Fred inquired: "Mamma, have I been bad today?" "Yes, Freddie, very bad indeed." "Do you think you'll send me to bed without any supper?" "I have a great mind to." "Well, mamma, I wish you would let me know now, so that I can tell how much dinner to eat."—Pick Me Up.

The Secret.

The Scoffer—Why do missionaries make such great efforts to train the heathen to wearing clothes? Are dresses and bonnets a necessary part of religion? The Missionary—No, but nothing makes a woman come to church regularly so well as knowing that the other women will be there in new bonnets.

LATTER DAY SAINTS.

THEIR MISSION AS PRESIDENT SNOW SEES THEM.

He Believes In Polygamy, but Thinks the Law Should Be Obeyed—No Polygamy Now Existing—Revelation That Appointed Him.

Lorenzo Snow, the new president of the Mormon church, who succeeded the late Wilford Woodruff, was seen at the church offices in Salt Lake the other day by a representative of the New York World, to whom President Snow gave the following statement:

"I believe in the revelation given to Joseph Smith, the prophet, on celestial marriage—that is, a marriage for eternity—and that under certain conditions Latter Day Saints would be doing no moral or religious wrong in practicing plural marriage under divine sanction and religious regulations. But I do not think it would be right to break the laws of the land against that practice. Polygamy—that is, marrying plural wives—ceased among the Latter Day Saints on the issuance of President Woodruff's manifesto Oct. 6, 1890, and his inhibition will not be changed by me.

"A revelation given March 28, 1865, clearly defines the relationship the 12 apostles bear to the first presidency. When a vacancy occurred in the presiding council, such as has occurred by the death of President Woodruff, the 12 apostles became the presiding council of churches, and it has been the rule for the president of that body, if he be the senior apostle by ordination, to succeed to the presidency when the council of apostles decides that the first presidency should be reorganized. He, with two councilors that he may select, is then presented to the body of churches in general conference. If accepted by the churches, they become the first presidency thereof. In this manner I have been selected as president of the churches.

"The mission of the Latter Day Saints is to preach the gospel of Jesus Christ as made known by divine revelation to all worlds, to gather the saints and to prepare for the advent of our Saviour, who will then become King of kings and Lord of lords. They will become a great and powerful body of religious worshippers. They will sustain the constitution and laws and institutions of the United States and be the champions of liberty and of that constitution when its integrity shall be threatened. Their future will comprehend the fulfillment of the predictions of the prophets of God concerning the reclamation of the earth and its inhabitants.

"Polygamy does not exist in Utah either secretly or openly. It is forbidden by the church. There have been no polygamous marriages to my knowledge since the issuance of the manifesto against them. There are men who married plural wives previous to that time, who now care for them and regard them sacredly as their wives for all eternity, being married to them with that contract.

"They have respect for the law, yet consider it their duty to provide for them and for their children. But polygamy, which has a definite signification in law, has ceased entirely in this state so far as Latter Day Saints are concerned. It will not be expected by any reasonable persons that the plural family relations existing when polygamous marriages ceased by action of law and the inhibition of the church would be at once abolished.

"The understanding among all parties was that the rigid enforcement of proceedings against such parties would be discontinued, and that men in the condition described should not be molested in the proper protection of their families or in providing for their needs.

"The stories that circulated concerning social conditions in this state are either entirely untrue or grossly exaggerated. It must be clear to reflecting minds that, polygamous marriages being no longer solemnized, the conditions growing out of those contracted in the past must soon come to an end."

AN AERONAUT'S TRIUMPH.

Second Highest Balloon Ascension on Record Made in England.

Next to the highest balloon ascension on record was made at London the other afternoon from the Crystal palace, Sydenham, by Stanley Spencer, the aeronaut, and Dr. Berson. The balloon, which was inflated with pure hydrogen and has a capacity of 56,500 cubic feet, attained an altitude of 27,500 feet.

At a height of 25,000 feet the air was so rarefied that the occupants of the car were compelled to breathe compressed oxygen by tubes. The temperature was 61 degrees below the freezing point. The atmosphere was clear and the coast distinctly visible. The balloon finally descended near Romford, in Essex.—New York Tribune.

Hanging Paper by Machine.

A new paper hanging machine is provided with a rod on which the roll of paper is placed. There is also a paste receptacle at the back, which applies the paste automatically as the paper is unrolled. After the end of the paper is once set at the bottom of the wall and the machine started on the rise, an elastic roller follows on the outside, pressing the automatically pasted paper firmly to the wall. When the wall paper has reached the top, the workman pulls a cord, and the paper is neatly clipped off at the level at which it stops.—San Francisco Chronicle.

MONEY MARKETS' MASTER.

Dun's Review Says This Country Is Becoming That In The Old World. Condition of Trade.

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade, issued today, said in part: "Europe will have to consider possible American demands for money much more anxiously in the future. Doubtless there has been for many years a feeling that the new continent could be put off with promises. But the control of this country over money markets in the old world is coming to be of that of amaster. Our banks lend over there heavily when it is the most convenient market for them, but they draw on Europe whenever they want money and no longer have occasion to limit their drafts."

The review stated that the prices of wheat have risen sharply, about 4 cents for the week. The price of corn slightly advanced. Exports are larger than last year for both grains.

"The reports from different cities disclose a wonderful activity at the chief centers of western trade, the dispatches from Chicago, St. Paul and St. Louis being especially significant.

"Even in eastern markets it is commonly said that no larger trade has ever been known unless in 1892.

"The iron and steel trade expands with a rapidity which throws into the shade all expectations, with a steel famine in Germany and Great Britain in the market for 10,000 tons plates, and the American works are crowded for months ahead. New orders at Chicago cover 30,000 tons tin plate bars besides 7,000 tons sold at Philadelphia. Rails are in such demand that the makers are to meet with expectation of advancing prices, some sales having been made from Chicago below agreed quotations for delivery at the far west.

"Coke production increases the output at Connellsville for the week having been 140,658 tons, against 137,171 for the previous week.

"Tin plates are selling at $2.82½ for full weight Bessemer.

"There is little disposition to secure trade in wool by concessions and sales for three weeks have been only 10,078,700 pounds, against 49,451,400 for the same weeks last year and 23,463,700 in 1892.

"Failures for the week have been 173 in the United States against 209 last year, and 16 in Canada against 28 last year.

TYPHOID PATIENTS

That Number Taken From Camp Meade to Philadelphia—Others to Go to Reading.

CAMP MEADE, MIDDLETOWN, Pa., Sept. 24.—Seventy-four typhoid fever patients were sent to Philadelphia to St. Agnes' hospital and 39 others are intended to be sent today to Reading hospitals. The sick were nearly all from the Two Hundred and Third New York, Fifteenth Minnesota and Thirty-fifth Michigan regiments. Chief Surgeon Girard furnished the hospital with descriptive lists, giving the rank, company, place where the soldier was enlisted, name of nearest relative and the soldier's religion. Corporal William Moore, Company K, Third New York, died Thursday night of typhoid fever in the Red Cross hospital. The body was taken to Hornellsville, N. Y., by the soldier's father.

The new wards of the Red Cross hospital have been finished and there is now room for 80 patients. A call in Philadelphia for the emergency nurses of the Red Cross has been answered by a dozen women, and they have been put to work, increasing the number of nurses.

Since the consolidation of the Red Cross hospital and the assumption of the cost of medicines and supplies by the government, Major Jabez Jackson of the Third Missouri will have supervision of both hospitals.

There are 500 Jewish soldiers at Camp Meade and among them 24 officers, who will be granted leave to attend service in Ohev Sholem synagogue, this city, on the Day of Atonement, which falls this year on Monday.

NO ONE SAW MISS GILL.

Detective at Bridgeport, Conn., Recommended Release of Charles Plumb.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Sept. 24.—Detective Cronan returned to headquarters yesterday afternoon from Stratford. He found no one who had seen Miss Gill in that place. The detective also looked into the career of Charles A. Plumb and learned enough to cause him to recommend the release of Plumb as a witness. Attorney Lynch of counsel for the defense of Walter Foster, said yesterday: "They will never convict him."

Harry Guilford said yesterday, regarding his visit to his mother's house at the time of his arrest, that he came from New Haven to get mail.

TWO MORE ARRESTS.

Prominent Young Men Suspected of the Bridgeport Murder.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Sept. 24.—Harry Oxley and Howard Guernsey were arrested yesterday at Southington in connection with the Gill case. They were brought here last night. They are from prominent families. Guernsey is said to have confessed, giving strong evidence against Oxley, who is said to have paid Dr. Guilford money, express receipt for part of which having been found. Dr. Guilford's laundress and her daughter were also arrested.

CHRONIOLED FIVE DEATHS.

Indications Were That the Sickness Among General Lawton's Troops Was Decreasing.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—In his report of the health conditions of the American troops at Santiago, made to the war department last night, General Lawton chronicled the death of five men. The indications are that the sickness among the troops is decreasing, although 1,002 of the men were still reported ill. The deaths given were:

John Killgallon, Private, Company A, Ninth infantry, typhoid fever, Sept. 21; William H. Brigham, private, Company K, Second United States volunteer infantry, acute gastro enteric congestion, Sept. 21; Robert Corbin, private, Company H, Fifth infantry, typhoid fever, Sept. 21; Isaac Saltus, civilian packer, acute dysentery, Sept. 22; John Thomas, private, Company M, Ninth United States volunteer infantry, typhoid fever, Sept. 22.

DREYFUS SENSATION.

Wife of Deputy Palmier Shot a Newspaper Man—Dreyfus Letter Started the Trouble.

PARIS, Sept. 24.—Madame Paulmier, wife of M. Charles Ernest Paulmier, member of the chamber of deputies from the department of Calvades, yesterday entered the offices of La Lanterne and fired twice with a revolver, wounding M. Olivier, who she mistook for M. Millerand.

Madame Paulmier, when taken into custody, coolly announced: "I wished to kill M. Millerand."

She explained that La Lanterne had slandered herself and her husband because her husband had written a letter to General Chanoinne, the minister of war, with reference to putting a stop to the attacks upon the army provoked by the Dreyfus affair.

The military authorities have accomplished their plan of stifling M. Picquart by placing him au secret.

Stopped by Robbers Near Kansas City and Express Car Dynamited.

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 24.—The Colorado and Coffeyville express train, on the Missouri Pacific railroad, which left Kansas City about 9:15 o'clock last night, was held up by robbers near Leeds, a suburban station, about six miles out from the Union depot. The locomotive and baggage car were detached from the train and taken down the track toward Dodson, after which the robbers shattered the Pacific Express company's car with dynamite.

Postal Representative to Investigate the Allegation That He Sold Postoffices.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—The postal officials have directed one of their representatives to conduct an inquiry into the charges made recently in a political speech that Senator Quay had sold postoffices in Lehigh county, Pa.

Second Assistant Postmaster General Shallenberger says the official records show no evidence of irregularity in the appointment of postmasters in the county referred to. The inquiry is made at the request of Senator Quay.

Sherman Abandoned the Plans.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Ex-Secretary Sherman has so far recovered from his illness that his physician, Dr. Frank Hyatt, has left the city for a few days. On his advice Mr. Sherman has abandoned his speechmaking plans in Ohio.
